Skateboards, Sit-Ins, Sippers Face Ban In Sausalito

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sipping of wine or beer in Sausalito's Vina Del Mar Plaza is seeing its last days.

So is the use of skateboards on streets and sidewalks by Sausalito youngsters, and the intentional blocking of streets, sidewalks, stairs.

The Sausalito City Council, revising its nuisance abatement ordinance, last night introduced three ordinances to govern disorderly conduct. Adoption is expected on Oct. 5, the ordinances to be effective Nov. 4.

Ordinances introduced provide:

1. It is unlawful for persons to intentionally stand, sit or lie in any street, sidewalk, stairway or crosswalk to prevent free passage of persons or vehicles.

2. It is against the law for any person to drink alcoholic beverage, including beer and wine, in or on any public street, sidewalk or passage or in or on any park, playground or highway.

3. It is unlawful to ride a skate board device on any city street or sidewalk.

Ordinance Number One was approved unanimously, but Nos. 2 and 3 received 3-2 votes, Councilmen Melvin S. Wax and Mrs. Eleanor O'Hara Chapin voting "No".

Wax said it is not unusual for people to have beer, wine or even liquor in national parks and that he believes the problem is really lack of enforcement of existing laws since there are laws on the books to take care of drunkenness in public places.

Mrs. Chapin maintained the city should have foot patrolmen "as in the past."

Letters were read regarding drinking in the park. Mrs. William V. Lynch, in the audience, asked if the park should be used as a public beer parlor. Mayor Jan Paul Dyk replied, "No one has ever sold it to me there but they have asked me for money to buy some more."

One woman in the audience argued strongly for being able to sit in a park or at Tiffany Beach and drink a beer on Sunday.

Both Wax and Mrs. Chapin suggested skateboarding might be permitted in some safe spot, such as Central School playground. Councilman Alexander R. Imlay said he would support exploration of this.

The council agreed that penalties be $500 fine or six month's imprisonment for ordinances 1 and 2 but that it would be too much to ask this for violation of the skateboard ordinance and this was reduced to a $50 fine and no jail sentence.

An earlier proposal to outlaw playing of musical instruments in parks was deleted from the proposed ordinance last week.

Councilman Earl F. Dunphy said he agrees with Mrs. Chapin on need for foot patrolmen. Mrs. Ruth Sisson, in the audience, also supported the suggestion. She asked that foot patrols be established "immediately" to include lanes as well as businesses, saying "this might be a deterrent to some of the stealing and vandalism going on."

Mrs. Chapin said Sausalito Citizens Council directors had criticized the city council for having so much debate over the disorderly conduct ordinance. "To pass this ordinance without debate would be a very serious thing indeed," she said.

Councilman Wax said he found a citizens council letter signed by president Raymond Gergus "very offensive." Gergus wrote that the citizens want "action rather than debate."

Council Splits 3-2 But Eases Residence Rule

Hub Citizens Nearly Unanimous Against Flautt Exception

By STEPHEN COOK

A three-man majority of the San Anselmo City Council last night forced through an amendment to a city ordinance to legalize the out-of-town residence of City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt.

Councilmen William Franchini, John M. Reichmuth and Cedric Clute formed the majority which passed the amendment in the face of almost unanimous opposition from the audience. Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro and Councilman Arthur W. Smith voted "no".

ONE IN FAVOR

The only member of the audience who spoke in favor of the amendment was Valmar Schaaf of 32 Crest Road. He said there was no reason to require a city administrator to live in the city, "because he just carries out the policy of the councilmen who are residents. This residence requirement is archaic."

Planning commissioner Duane C. Ragan pointed out that the two other times the council considered the amendment it heard "residents speaking from the audience in support of the present ordinance but heard not one resident speak in favor of amending the ordinance.

'BIT OLD-FASHIONED'

"Perhaps I am a bit old-fashioned in my belief that it is the duty of elected officials to endeavor to fulfill the desires of the majority of the electorate," said Ragan.

"I think it is fairly obvious that the majority of our electorate in San Anselmo feel that our top city official should be a resident of the community in which he wields so much influence and authority."

Three Councilmen Facing Recall In Novato Tax Row

ROBERT D. CARROW

LUCILE CANNON

WILLIAM JACK ADAMS
Target of recall

Three Novato City Council members were served notice last night that a campaign for their recall will be started.

A fourth councilman asked to be included.

Targets of the recall move—started because of their votes to increase the city tax rate from 33 to 93 cents per $100 assessed valuation—are Mayor Robert D. Carrow, Councilman William Jack Adams, and the council's only woman member, Mrs. Lucile Cannon.

Harold Bright and George A. Amaroli, who circulated a petition against the tax raise during city budget discussions, informed the council of their recall plan last night.

A fourth councilman, Douglas M. Merrill, promptly asked why he was not included.

Amaroli replied that Merrill escaped since he was absent from the meeting at which the budget was adopted and tax rate set. He had voted previously for the increase, but "you may have been swayed into changing your vote," said Amaroli.

Merrill retorted that he would not have changed his vote.

Bright charged the council had failed to carry out "the democratic processes" in adopting the budget.

This brought a retort from Councilman J. Wayne Womack, the lone dissenter when the higher rate was adopted, that "the democratic processes certainly were carried out."

'LEAST BURDEN'

Bright said the recall would be conducted in a leisurely manner and "at the least burden to the taxpayers of Novato." He said a committee already has been set up.

Terms of Mayor Carrow and Mrs. Cannon expire next April.

Amaroli said they had not started collecting signatures on petitions, nor have they filed a formal notice of recall with the city clerk, according to City Mgr. J. Julien Baget.

The two opposed the city council on a proposal for a 30-cent tax for park and civic center site acquisition, and on increasing the tax rate for operation of the city.

350 SIGNATURES

They collected 350 signatures on a petition asking that the city council hold down the tax rate. In presenting this to the council near the end of budget sessions last month, they asked that any parkland acquisition be by a bond issue. Councilman Womack also urged this method of financing.

"The recall was decided on without malice, vengeance or personal feelings," Amaroli told the council.

Amaroli and Bright are both engineers employed by the California Public Utilities Commission in San Francisco. Amaroli lives at 11 Rebecca Way and Wright at 525 Midway Drive.

Betsy's Damage Believed To Be All-Time High

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Giant Hurricane Betsy, which once seemed destined to blow itself out over the open Atlantic only to arc back and smash a billion-dollar blow at Louisiana, apparently was the most destructive tropical storm since records have been kept.

Gov. John J. McKeithen made a shirtsleeve tour of the stricken portion of the state from New Orleans to the Gulf yesterday and then told reporters: "I expect that the damage to this state will exceed a billion dollars."

State Insurance Commissioner Dudley Guglielmo said in Baton Rouge, the capital, that property losses covered by insurance alone would reach a record high figure of $300 million, far more than other recorded hurricanes.

The known death toll has reached 74—62 in Louisiana, 7 in Florida, 4 in Arkansas and 1 in Mississippi.

SINGAPORE (AP) — This newly independent state will support Communist China's admission to the United Nations, Deputy Prime Minister Toh Chin Chye declared today.

Tornado Wreaks Million-Dollar Destruction In Midwest States

PEORIA, ILL. UPI — Workmen labored to mop up a million dollars worth of tornado damage in Peoria today following an attack of late summer storms which slashed the Midwest.

Two storm-related deaths were reported in central Illinois and at least 30 persons were injured in Peoria when a twister carved a mile-long path into the city's industrialized south area.

The storms swept eastward today causing extensive damage at Erie, Pa. Wind gusts up to 84 miles an hour downed power lines uprooted trees and smashed windows. No injuries were reported.

The storms, which started in Iowa, did heavy crop damage with pounding hail across Illinois and into Indiana. A man in Danforth, Ill., died of a heart attack while running to a barn from the storm, and a Springfield, Ill., man was swept to his death from a second story porch in the state capital.

The Peoria Union Stockyards, seventh largest hog market in the nation, was reduced to what one reporter called "match sticks." A huge cooperage plant of Hiram Walker distillery was shattered, with pieces of broken whisky barrels scattered for blocks. A soft drink bottling works was also destroyed.

Power company officials described their lines as "a shambles." Telephone crews in Peoria worked through the night to restore service to large areas in the city and surrounding area.

Douglas E. Procter, director of the Peoria County Red Cross Chapter, said he was "absolutely amazed" the personal injury toll was not higher. At least 20 houses were damaged or destroyed. The second story of one house was sheared off by the winds and dropped into a side yard.

Non-Aligned Ask Halt To Testing

GENEVA (AP) — Eight nonaligned nations called today for an immediate halt of underground nuclear tests, but the United States promptly rejected the idea saying such a ban must contain policing arrangements.

The same eight countries — Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Sweden and the United Arab Republic—also urged new efforts to reduce and eventually eliminate the world's supplies of nuclear weapons.

Their position was defined in two memorandums presented to the 17-nation disarmament conference at Geneva.

LBJ Asked To Take Direct Hand In Kashmir Fighting

COMBINED AP & UPI

President Mohammad Ayub Khan of Pakistan appealed today to President Johnson to help achieve a cease-fire in Pakistan's war with India. He indicated he was ready for a compromise solution to the conflict.

United Nations Secretary General Thant left New Delhi today with an admission an "end to the fighting has not been achieved" but he said that is no reason why peace efforts should not continue.

The heavy ground fighting appeared to have tapered off but both sides reported widespread aerial bombing attacks by the other and a heavy toll of civilian life and property.

The United States evacuated 582 Americans today from Lahore, Pakistan's second city and the target of a major Indian armor attack.

Ayub Khan, red-eyed from lack of sleep, said he wanted to reach a "purposeful and honorable settlement" with India and invited President Johnson to take a direct hand.

He said Johnson should tell both India and Pakistan—which depend on large U.S. aid programs—that the United States "will not stand for this conflict" and should arrange a purposeful and permanent cease-fire.

The White House said Johnson is willing to do everything he can to promote peace but that he "very strongly hopes" that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant will be given every opportunity to resolve the problem of the undeclared war over Kashmir.

The statement by press secretary Bill D. Moyers left the way open for direct action by Johnson to make clear U.S. insistence on an end to the fighting.

Mariner Still Sends Useful Signals Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mariner 4, almost 182 million miles out in space, is still sending back useful signals, 500 hours beyond its designed lifetime.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today it is still receiving useful scientific data from the spacecraft that flew past and photographed Mars July 14.

House Balks At Removing Veto In Poverty Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House balked today at a provision removing the governor's veto power over antipoverty projects and sent a $1.78-billion authorization bill back to the Senate.

By a vote of 208-179 the House adopted a motion by Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, calling on the House conferees to insist that a mild form of veto approved earlier by the House be retained in the final bill.

The house version would have given governors the veto power over community action and work-training projects in their states, but authorized the director of the program to override such vetoes.

The Senate stripped all veto power over the two types of projects from its bill.

The prospect is for a long tie-up in conference.

Money On Way

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Social Security Administration said today that it had begun mailing $885 million in retroactive increases to 20.5 million beneficiaries.

Ballot Upset Hurts Wagner

Beame

Beame, 59, rolled past three opponents in a primary election that seriously damaged the gubernatorial ambitions of his one-time ally, retiring Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

He collected nearly 59,000 votes more than his closest rival, City Council President Paul R. Screvane, who ran with Wagner's backing.

Beame quickly labeled himself an underdog in the battle against Rep. Lindsay, then took off in the predawn hours for a handshaking tour of the Fulton fish market.

Judy Entertains The Hard Way

Judy

Miss Garland said last night she would do all of the show she could after suffering two fractures of her left arm when she tripped over her dog at home.

Actor Mickey Rooney, singer Johnny Mathis and comedienne Martha Raye, did short numbers, joined Miss Garland in a few, then let the star go it alone.

Rooney

"She received a great ovation," said Rex Waggoner, a spokesman for the theater. "She sang six songs and did a duet with Martha Raye."

Rooney, Mathis and Miss Raye had volunteered to fill in for Miss Garland if she was unable to go on.

Waggoner said the skunk "really topped off the evening. He just wandered into the audience, but he didn't let fly with his weapon. He just walked out again."

Protests Rapped

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Republican Assemblyman Don Mulford of Oakland said yesterday that Gov. Edmund G. Brown should not remain quiet while professors at the University of California lead "illegal activities" such as sit-ins and protest actions. Mulford told a news conference called by a "Republican Action Squad" that taxpayers have a right to expect that such activities will not be allowed on the university's campuses.

Motor Vehicle Manager, Aide Fired For 'Gifts'

HAYWARD (AP) — The manager of the Department of Motor Vehicles office in Hayward and one of his license examiners were fired yesterday for allegedly accepting gifts from the owner of two driving schools.

Investigator William Scanlon said Manager Arthur Noia, who got $875 a month, and examiner William Spirou were fired for accepting gratuities from Ricardo Castillo, who operates driving schools under his name in San Jose and Hayward.

Scanlon said the gifts were intended to assure preferential treatment for graduates of Castillo's schools when they applied for licenses.

Noia and Spirou did not comment on the charges. They have 30 days in which to appeal.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner's labor trouble shooter, Theodore W. The mayor also called both sides to a city hall meeting tonight.

Lipstick Target

SAN JOSE (UPI)—A San Jose woman was booked for attempted murder yesterday after she sketched a target in lipstick on her sleeping husband's back, then shoved a six-inch kitchen knife into the center of the red "X". Sailboat Youth Embarks Again

HONOLULU (AP) — Lee Graham, 16, who sailed 2,400 miles from Los Angeles to Honolulu in a 24-foot sailboat, is out to sea again.

With him in his fibreglass boat, the Dove, are two kittens, Suzette and Jolietta. The kittens also made the trip from California. The trip will take 10 days, Graham estimates.

PROCESSION REOPENS COUNCIL

Leaders of the Roman Catholic Church leave the Basilica of the Holy Cross in Vatican City yesterday in a penitential procession led by Pope Paul VI, following the formal opening of the final session of the Ecumenical Council. Today, the council heard details of the Pope's creation of a worldwide synod of bishops to help him govern the church, then settled down to deliberations on the draft of a religious liberty declaration which has caused one of the major controversies of the council. MARINES DUE LIQUOR FROM BOASTFUL STORE

NEW YORK (AP)—Winging its way to a platoon of Marines in Viet Nam is an air express shipment of liquor and snacks from a Long Island store that adveritses "We deliver anywhere."

A spokesman for Pan American Airways said the shipment should reach Saigon Friday.

Somehow the Leathernecks came upon a calendar put out by Al Rustice's liquor store in West Babylon, N.Y. The calendar said "We deliver anywhere" and the Marines sent off an order.

They asked for two quarts of vodka, a fifth of bourbon, a pint of scotch, a bottle of pink champagne and a bottle of screwdriver mix.

Rustice threw in a cheese dip, salted nuts and potatoe chips, olives, cherries, onions, a box of cigars—and a quart of scotch for the company commander.

The order was signed by L. Freeman, reportedly a Navy hospital medic, and it gave the name of 13 Marines.

Integrity Of U.S. Pledges Helps Peace, Says Rusk

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the principal pillar of world peace is the integrity of U. S. commitments around the globe.

"If the other side ever believed that commitment was not worthwhile, then we have not begun to see the dangers," he told the 31st annual Southern Governors Conference last night.

Rusk has an off-the-record breakfast with the 14 governors today and then visits his birthplace in Cherokee County, 30 miles north of Atlanta.

In his address he repeated that the United States is ready to talk peace in Viet Nam but said Communist leaders have not shown a willingness to do so.

"Hanoi and Peking will not come to the conference table and they vilify those who would," Rusk said.

Rusk called on Americans to continue to support President Johnson's efforts toward peace everywhere. But, he said, there must be no reckless attempts to hurl ourselves over a cliff and into a major war.

"We have commitments to defend countries; not to flail out with maximum violence," he said.

Rusk recalled the numbers of Americans who died for freedom in Greece shortly after World War II, in the Berlin airlift, the pilot killed in a photo flight over Cuba and those who are dying in Viet Nam.

"No one of them fought anything less than a world war where he was concerned," Rusk said.

He envisioned the numbers of libraries, schools, medical and other facilities which could have been built with the dollars he said countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization have spent on defense efforts to maintain the peace since 1947.

Paratroopers Invade Viet Reds' Jungle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of U.S. paratroopers and Vietnamese soldiers fanned out today in Viet Cong territory about 30 miles north of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

Elements of the U.S. Army's 173rd Brigade are taking part in the joint operation launched yesterday in an effort to establish a base for U.S. forces in an area long under guerrilla control.

The spokesman said no major contact had been made but that the allied forces drew sporadic sniper fire. He reported no U.S. casualties but said Australian and New Zealand troops on the operation took light losses.

The area being cleared was near the district town of Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon in Binh Duong Province.

U.S. advisers parachuted yesterday with 1,100 Vietnamese just northeast of Ben Cat in one phase of the operation. In another part, U.S. paratroopers and New Zealand and Australian contingents reached Ben Cat by convoy along Highway 13 on which the Viet Cong have pulled many bloody ambushes.

One truck in the convoy blew up after striking a mine and inflicted the casualties on the New Zealanders.

The parachute jump was made in driving rain and was the first by Vietnamese paratroopers since last year.

In the air war, another flight of B-52 bombers from Guam hit a suspected Viet Cong installation in Zone D 30 miles northeast of Saigon in Bien Hoa Province. It was the 24th announced raid by the big planes of the U.S. Strategic Air Command.

U.S. Viet Role May Be Altered

WASHINGTON (AP) — High U.S. military officials are looking for Gen. William C. Westmoreland to seize the initiative from the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

There are two main factors in top level hopes for an increasing offensive:

1. A build-up of U.S. fighting forces in Viet Nam shortly will reach about 127,000 men, with more American troops expected to follow.

2. The dry season is approaching. It will permit all-out air operations after a months-long rainy period that hampered such operations.

Arrival of the 16,000-man First Cavalry Division, with its fleet of 428 helicopters, gives Westmoreland greatly increased resources for maneuver. He is the top U.S. commander in Viet Nam.

CAN PUSH FIRST

With the heavily strengthened combat forces available to him, "Westmoreland can now act rather than react," one high ranking officer said.

He mentioned a big Marine operation in the Chu Lai area last month and added: "You can expect that type of thing to increase."

At Chu Lai, officials said, the Marines beat the Viet Cong to the draw and averted an impending Communist attack in force.

The announced body count of Viet Cong dead topped 600. But U.S. military officials now believe that perhaps twice that many of the enemy were killed at Chu Lai. Many Viet Cong apparently were sealed up by explosions in tunnels and caves, authorities said.

Chiefly, they said it calls for American fighting units to strike out from secure bases and coastal enclaves to fix and destroy Communist units wherever they can be found. Vital to such far ranging operations is improving intelligence information.

GRADUAL GAINS

shown by South Vietnamese officers in that theater which used to be a Viet Cong happy hunting ground.

In the delta, where the Communists have suffered some significant reverses recently, the South Vietnamese troops will continue to carry the brunt of the fighting.

U.S. military authorities credit the gains in the delta in part to what they say is outstanding leadership and aggressiveness

California's population is expected to grow by 340,000 a year for the next 10 years.

GOP Leaders Back Nixon's Rosy Outlook

WASHINGTON (AP) — GOP leaders today backed optimistic estimates by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon that Republicans will bounce back with substantial gains in the House in next year's elections.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he believes his party not only will gain the 40 seats in the House, two in the Senate and two governors' posts in 1966 that Nixon predicted but will give a good account of itself in 1968.

Victor A. Johnston, field director for the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in a seaparate interview he thinks the GOP may gain as many as four Senate seats. He listed Tennessee, Alabama, Montana and Oregon as prime possibilities.

Nixon told a news conference yesterday he believes Republicans will regain more than the 38 House seats they lost in 1964 because the quarrel between conservatives and liberals which he said had caused their landslide defeat will be substantially patched up.

Record Amount Asked For '66 Flood Control

Gov. Edmund G. Brown today urged that $187,508,000 be included in the 1966-67 federal budget for flood control and reclamation projects in California, including $1,500,000 for Corte Madera Creek.

The governor said that while this amount is the largest ever requested, the storms of last December demonstrated the need for more expenditures.

FLAUTT

barrassed that this is the third time I have had to come down here and oppose this. In brief, I feel the highest administrative position in San Anselmo should be filled by one of our community."

Mrs. John West, of the same association, compared the administrator's power to that wielded by the city council and said Flautt should be required to live in San Anselmo for the same reason as the councilmen are.

Jerry Citti of 1329 San Anselmo Avenue said "This is a good ordinance, and it was put there for a good reason."

Mayor Capurro, backing up his "no" vote, said:

"I believe this amendment is basically and morally wrong and I think it's going to make a big difference in this city. I do not think the city should change its laws for any one person. Nobody is that big!"

Councilman Reichmuth, who seconded Franchini's motion for adoption of the amendment, explained:

"I think the city administrator's out-of-town residence has been given tacit approval by the city until just recently. I do not see any benefits the city would gain by having this man live in town."

Franchini pointed out that San Francisco supervisors are considering changing the residence requirements for city-county employees. He said there seems to be a general trend towards this. He said Berkeley, Oakland, San Mateo and San Rafael have no such requirements.

Clute said: "I do not feel I am in the position to say to this man, 'You either live here or quit'."

Smith said he voted against the amendment "as a matter of principle."

The ordinance requiring the city administrator to reside in San Anselmo was adopted by the council in 1959. Flautt has resided in San Rafael since about six months after he became city administrator in 1960.

Tickets Sought For Pope's Mass

NEW YORK (AP)—The visit of Pope Paul VI to New York Oct. 4 has brought a flood of requests for tickets to the Mass he will say at Yankee Stadium.

A spokesman for the chancery office of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York said requests are coming from as far away as Washington State.

The archdiocese said the public would be informed "in the very near future" how to get seats for the mass.

No tickets will be avilable at the stadium, a spokesman said, adding that church officials would handle the distribution and that there would be no charge.

Prescription Forging Case Before Jury

Jury trial of Ronald Romaine Wormuth, 24, charged with using a forged prescription to obtain drugs, opened yesterday in Marin County Superior Court with testimony by the wife of the owner of a Kentfield pharmacy and a drug salesman.

Wormuth, of 830 B Street, San Rafael, was arrested March 29 in Greenbrae along with Frederick Kitzmiller, 24, of 56 Clayton Street, San Rafael. Kitzmiller, facing a similar charge, was later found dead in a hotel room of an overdose of drugs.

After selection of a jury of five men and seven women, the case before Judge Thomas F. Keating opened with testimony by Mrs. Marie Loeffler, wife of the owner of the Woodlands Pharmacy. She said she had filled a prescription for nembutal when Wormuth and Kitzmiller appeared with it.

Warren E. Moser, a drug salesman who happened to be in the drugstore at the time, said in court he had been the one who noticed that the prescription seemed irregular.

Today Dr. Dallas Wagner was due to testify on whether the handwriting on the prescription blank was his and also to tell of a theft of prescription blanks from a car in San Rafael in February.

Start School At Age Three —Professor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Stanford University professor says children should start school at 3 or younger, and hundreds of thousands of high school and college girls should be recruited to teach them.

Prof. H. Thomas James said in a paper prepared for delivery today at the Governor's Conference on Education:

"Pre-school programs (like Operation Head Start), appear to be the brightest hope we have for improving the chances of the underprivileged child."

He said laws which prevent schools from accepting children younger than 5 should be removed.

"Margaret Mead once suggested that 12 - year - old girls might make the best teachers and I'm inclined to agree with her," said James.

"If I had to choose between 12-year-old girls for teachers of infants and some of the middle-aged barracudas I have known in the classroom, I certainly would take the 12-year-olds."

Governor Urges Holding Classes All Year Round

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California must consider new educational concepts — like junking the nine-month public school year in favor of year-around classes — to keep pace with the "knowledge explosion," Gov. Brown said today.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the first governor's Conference on Education, Brown told leading educators the state must make better use of its classrooms and its top teachers to meet the challenges of a booming school-age population.

At the same time, the governor called on California's college and university students to abandon off-campus demonstrations and picket lines and turn their idealism toward curing the social ills and solving the educational failings of the state.

Noting that one-fourth of the state's population now is in school, and that the figure is increasing each year, Brown called for a new commitment to education. And he warned part of the commitment would have to be financial.

Deputy Indicted For Manslaughter

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A special part-time deputy sheriff, was indicted on a manslaughter charge today for the killing of a young white seminary student who had come to Alabama as a civil rights volunteer.

The defendant, Thomas L. Coleman, 55, highway engineer prominent Hayneville family, had been charged with first-degree murder in a warrant sworn out after the slaying of Jonathan Daniels Aug. 20.

The Lowndes County grand jury, in its report, also indicted Coleman on a charge of assault and battery for the wounding of a Catholic priest, Father Richard Morrisroe of Chicago, who was struck by a shotgun blast outside a Hayneville grocery store at the same time Daniels was slain.

Coleman previously had been charged with assault with attempt to murder for the shooting of the priest.

Coleman was brought into court for immediate arraignment and pleaded innocent to both indictments. Trial was set for Sept. 28 and the defendant was allowed to remain free under the $12,500 bond posted following his arrest last month.

The first-degree manslaughter indictment against Coleman carries a maximum penalty of ten years imprisonment. The first-degree murder charge originally filed against him could have brought the death penalty.

The assault and battery charge is punishable by a maximum of one year in jail and a fine of $500.

Peace Corps 'Can't Halt Red Advance'

BURLINGAME (AP) — The U.S. taxpayers aren't getting their money's worth from the Peace Corps and it "is clearly not a workable method" to stop Communism, a young Burlingame Peace Corpsman said today.

Gregory W. Stikes, 25, former high school athlete just back from Peace Corps duty in Indonesia and Thailand, said:

"I've talked to corpsmen stationed from Afghanistan to Thailand, and the general opinion is the same — we're not doing enough to warrant our being there. It's the same story of frustration everywhere. The corpsmen have had to lower their goals, and after they've gone their work is soon forgotten.

"I feel very strongly about stopping the advance of Communism. But, certainly in Indonesia and most of the rest of the Far East, the Peace Corps doesn't seem to be the answer."

The $800 million spent in Indonesia made little difference, Stikes said. "The corps was kicked out by President Sukarno. And Indonesia is going Communist. The obvious conclusion is that the taxpayers didn't get their money's worth and that the Peace Corps is clearly not a workable method there to stop Communism."

Stikes joined the Peace Corps in October, 1964, after graduation from the University of the Pacific. He trained in Hawaii and was sent to Djakarta and then to the island of Ambodia in Indonesia.

He said Sukarno asked corpsmen to help Indonesia build better athletes.

"Specifically, I was asked to develop a basketball team that could beat a Chinese team. At least, the Corps succeeded there. We did build a basketball team that beat the Chinese."

"Otherwise," Stikes said, "the athletic program was pretty much a failure."

Earliest Earthly Visitor On Mars May Be A Robot

ATHENS (AP) — One of earth's first visitors to Mars may be a robot that can scan the Martian landscape with television eyes and roam over the red planet on radio command.

Plans for such a robot, to land on Mars within 10 years were placed today before the 16th International Astronautical Congress.

The project was based on a study sponsored by the General Electric Co. of the United States. C. E. Anderson and F. G. Beuf of General Electric's Missile and Space Division in Philadelphia, Pa., presented the paper.

Anderson and Beuf proposed that a Saturn 5 rocket, the same model that will launch the manned Apollo flight to the moon, could carry the robot to Mars in 1973 or 1975. Both are years when the earth and Mars will be in relatively good positions for such a space shot. Manned space flight to Mars is not likely to be possible before the mid-1980s.

Chamber Elects Insurance Man

Other officers elected were: Gilbert Dubuc of Cunningham Press, vice president; real estate agent Maybelle Culpepper, honorary secretary; Carrie Ray of the Dunk-It Coffee Shop, secretary and Charles Hunter, manager of the Bank of America Larkspur branch, treasurer.

Barry said the chamber will ask City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper or Planning Consultant John D. Erickson to attend its next meeting and explain Erickson's plan for the business center of Larkspur.

Referendum Ordered On Sunday Drinking

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Gov. John H. Reed has ordered a statewide referendum Feb. 21, 1966, on the new Sunday liquor law passed by the legislature.

The law would permit sales of hard liquor and wine, by the drink, and take-out sales of beer and ale between noon and 9 p.m. on Sundays. The liquor and wine sales would be restricted to hotels, clubs and certain restaurants.

Admiral Nimitz Room Being Set Up At U.C.

BERKELEY (UPI) — A room containing papers and documents belonging to Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz is being established at the University of California.

The room, in Callaghan Hall, was established by the naval ROTC unit at the university.

Killing Of Two Riot Suspects Ruled Justified

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An inquest jury, launching the coroner's probe of last month's disastrous Negro riots, has ruled justifiable homicide in the shooting of two looting suspects by peace officers.

While a governor's commission and state and city bodies continued separate investigations of the Aug. 11-15 holocaust, stage-setting testimony by detectives at the inquest depicted a frightful five days:

Thirty-four persons dead. More than 860 persons injured. Police arrests of 3,345 persons, 91.6 per cent of them adults, 75 per cent with prior criminal records.

An "uncountable" number of emergency calls. Property damage of $45 million from fires, violence and looting. Seven thousand rioting and looting at the riots' peak. Nearly 13,000 National Guardsmen supplementing police and deputies.

Two other deaths — one from a heart attack, the other in a car crash — had been believed at the time to be riot-caused. But the coroner, in announcing his list of deaths to be investigated at inquests, limited the total to 34.

The inquests — to determine how each victim met death — will continue, two a day, through Oct. 19.

Yesterday's first inquest was enlivened when an American Civil Liberties Union attorney, Hugh Manes, was ejected after declaring: "This seems to be a platform for whitewashing rather than an inquiry into the truth."

He had been denied permission to cross-examine witnesses.

The nine-member jury, including two Negro men and three white women, first found justifiable the police shooting of Homer Ellis, 45, a Negro.

The verdict said he died from a bullet in the heart while acutely intoxicated and committing a felony, burglary.

ABSTAINERS WANT VOTES NOT TO COUNT

When a San Rafael planning commissioner abstains, he wants his vote recorded as an abstention.

If a commissioner abstains under the present procedure, his vote is recorded with the majority vote.

Commissioners instructed Acting City Planner Charles Linthicum last night to draw up a resolution so that from now on when a commissioner abstains, the vote is counted neither as an "aye" nor a "nay."

Stanton Recall Drive Called Off

SAN JOSE (UPI) — A signature drive to recall Assemblyman William F. Stanton, D-San Jose, was called off by leaders of the movement yesterday, apparently due to lack of funds.

The movement begaen last spring after Stanton, and Assemblyman John Burton and Willie Brown, both San Francisco Democrats, sent cablegrams to several European political leaders condemning American air raids in North Viet Nam.

The recall drive was spearheaded by local leaders of the John Birch Society, but members of the official Republican organization in Stanton's district took over the drive in an effort to purge the campaign's extremist overtones.

Bands Had Own Sound Equipment

Jack Alvarado, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, said today each band in the "Battle of the Combos" which was broken up by fights last Friday night had provided its own sound equipment.

"Each group had its own electric sound equipment and insisted on using it," said Alvarado. "We had a sound company ready, but the kids insisted on using their own equipment so we went along with it."

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said yesterday that poor management, which made it impossible for the crowd to see the musicians and hear the music, was to blame for fights that erupted during the chamber-sponsored contest.

Insurance Break Voted For Military

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Veterans Committee today unanimously approved legislation which would permit all servicemen to buy $10,000 life insurance policies for about $2 per month.

The bill was drafted as an answer to complaints that some servicemen killed in Viet Nam had no insurance. All servicemen are covered by a government system of death benefits far in excess of $10,000, but only dependents are eligible for them.

The bill will come up in the House next week for almost certain passage and then will go to a House - Senate conference where its sponsors hope to substitute the measure for a Senate-passed bill granting $10,000 in life insurance to men killed in combat zones.

Destitute Actor Gets Sympathy

VENICE, Calif. (AP) Actor Tom Conway, found broke and living in a $2-a-day hotel room says publicity about his plight has brought a phone call "every five minutes" — but none from former show business associates.

Conway, 61, brother of actor George Sanders, said yesterday he has had offers to pay his hotel bill and of other places to live.

"I have a place where I'll be able to live and it looks as though there may be a job in the offing for me," he said.

Conway, who once portrayed "The Falcon" and "Inspector Mark Sabre," made 280 movies and earned nearly $1 million in a 25-year acting career.

Marin Urged To Keep Senior Citizen Plans

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce's recommendation that the county withdraw from senior citizens programs was partially shot down yesterday by Richard Phenix, coordinator of the community services project for seniors.

Supervisors for a time tried to keep Phenix from pulling the trigger, arguing that Bruce, now on vacation, should be present to defend his recommendations.

This argument held Phenix back but slightly. He won agreement that the board will bring the citizens advisory committee on the community services project to a full complement of 15 members. Bruce had recommended that six vacancies on the committee be left unfilled, holding that the committee would presumably discontinue when the county agreement with the Marin Council of Community Services ends next June.

Phenix said Bruce's recommendation was cutting the efficiency of the committee, and without full membership, the committee was not representative.

Bruce also took issue with recommendations against creation of two other committees.

One would be a county activity center committee to study and advise on an activity center for older adults at the Civic Center. The other would study compulsory retirement ages with the idea of recommending older adults work longer.

Bruce said that the county has no authority in this field. Phenix argued that the county has authority to ask for a study.

After considerable discussion on how or if to proceed, the board asked for written reports from all committees involved within 45 days.

Vera B. Schultz of the senior coordinating council was on hand to back Phenix, particularly on the proposed center for seniors at the Civic Center. The council has a lease, to expire next July 17, on a site for the center. Mrs. Schultz said it has already prepared a request for extension of the lease.

Bruce's report also recommended that the airport advisory committee be disolved, that the county fair board be reorganized when the fair grounds are established at the Civic Center, and that the proposed auditorium board not be created until 1968.

It also recommended changing the rules of the personnel commission to establish it as a "first instance" appeals board. This would be in keeping with the way it has recently operated, Bruce said when he submitted the report.

Beam Used For Close Measures

LONDON (AP) — British scientists say they have developed a machine that uses a Laser beam to measure accurately to a few million millionths trillionths of an inch.

The National Physical Laboratory at Teddington near London, where the Laser machine was built, said it will be used to check movement standards in machine and automatic tools.

Britain Receives Rare Blast From Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China declared today that Britain's Labor government was in danger of immediate collapse because of its "policy of subservience to the United States."

State Objects To Arena Name; Supervisors Awed

A rare, but brief moment of speechlessness struck members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday when they learned state officials objected to the proposed Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

The state does not object to the building, just the name, board chairman Peter H. Behr revealed.

He said high officials in the state department of agriculture are insisting that the building, proposed at the Civic Center, be called the "Marin County Fair Building."

Behr said he received a call from Marcelle McCoy, county fair manager, asking board members to meet with the state officials in a supper session Sept. 28.

Kettenhofen objected to "such an inportant matter" being discussed at a social gathering and insisted that the state officials be invited to appear before supervisors at a public meeting. The board quickly agreed to issue this invitation.

State pari-mutuel race track money will partly finance the auditorium. Also used in the project will be a long-standing veterans' memorial fund.

The City of Los Gatos (the cats) was originally called "La Rinconada de los Gatos," the rendezvous of the wildcats, which infested that region.

Two Marin men were fined $200 each and a San Bruno man fined $276 by Judge Peter Allen Smith in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Jon Theodore Kilpatrick, 21, of 30 Locust Avenue, Larkspur, was fined $220 after he pleaded guilty following his arrest yesterday by Corte Madera police at Tamalpais Avenue and Serra Street in Corte Madera.

Henry Eugene Webb, 45, of 1095 Via Escondido, Novato, was fined a similar amount after pleading guilty to a charge of drunken driving on Highway 101 at Greenbrae last May 10. He was arrested by the California Highway Patrol.

Gary Spencer Holst, 22, of San Bruno, was found guilty by a jury yesterday of drunken driving June 7 on the Sausalito lateral. Another CHP arrestee, he was fined $276 and his license was restricted six months instead of the usual 90 days.

Council Tosses Video Problem To Attorney

Sausalito city councilmen went verbally 'round and 'round four television antenna poles on Curry Avenue last night but came to no decision as to whether they are too tall, are in permitted locations, or even who has legislative power over them.

The subject was referred to City Atty. Leland H. Jordan for a report Oct. 5.

A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., attorney for Sausalito Community TV System, said under the franchise the poles are standing within the law. He added that a new pole recently installed was a replacement for a pole which blew down in the wind, therefore no permit was needed for installation.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said the city must find out about the height of the newest pole, which Mrs. William Remak in the audience said jumped from 32 to 40 feet on replacement, what powers the city has over the antenna, and on whose property the poles stand.

In separate action the council received a second draft of the city's proposed community television ordinance and put it on the Oct. 5 agenda.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Agreed to look into a request from volunteer firemen for disability pay to supplement state compensation insurance coverage and to discuss later a possible change in employees' sick leave procedure.
2. Introduced ordinance to rezone a small parcel of land on Ebbtide Avenue near Richardson Bay School from apartment to public use.
3. Heard from William Remak that of profits from the Sausalito Art Fair, $500 is proposed to be used for next year's fair and $300 for a chamber of commerce art scholarship.
4. Heard from Councilman Earl F. Dunphy that the corner at Litho Street and Bridgeway, with an old trailer and a stove, is "beginning to look like a junk yard."
5. Postponed appointments to library and community appearance advisory boards to Oct. 5.

Board, San Rafael Reach San Pedro Road Agreement

It took all summer, but Marin County supervisors and the San Rafael City Council have finally reached agreement on improvements for San Pedro Road which darts in and out of city territory.

Supervisors yesterday authorized approval of a joint powers agreement earlier approved by the council.

It means that right of way will be purchased this winter and construction started next spring..

The board's action yesterday came after almost no discussion. The most eloquent comment was a long sigh from Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who represents the first district within which lies the road.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Authorized a $60,000 loan to the West Marin School District to tide over the district until property taxes are collected.
2. Delayed discussion of proposed revisions in the salary ordinance.
3. Continued until next Tuesday decision on setting rehearing of a request for delay in construction of a road in Del Norte subdivision in Santa Venetia.
4. Awarded a fiscal 1966 tire purchase contract to Golden State Tire Co. of San Francisco at $20,721 for new tires and $4,697 for recaps. County purchasing agent John F. Hettrick recommended against a contract with the lowest bidder, Novato Tire Co. at $20,601 for new tires, because that firm did not bid on recaps. There were four other bidders, all higher.
5. Waived the carnival fee for the Junior Social Service Auxiliary, which held the carnival at Sleepy Hollow Clubhouse Saturday.
6. Delay adoption of amendments to the animal control ordinance. The changes would increase fees for impounded animals.
7. Voted 4-1, with Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen dissenting, against a permit recommended by the planning commission for Booker Carter to keep a trailer on holidays and vacations on Balboa Avenue in Inverness Park..
8. Asked Public Works Director Donald R. Frost to install two more litter cans and signs on Brighton Avenue in Bolinas to reduce the litter problem and asked the administrator's office to prepare a detailed report on the litter problem countywide.
9. Denied an application by Don Bailey to fill a portion of Richardson Bay just north of Sausalito. The fill was intended to serve vessels which are illegally moored on two underwater streets, Myrtle Street and Humboldt Avenue.

Brown Names Conservation Commission

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An executive with a magazine that extols the benefits of western living has been named by Gov. Brown to head a commission established to prevent destruction of San Francisco Bay.

Melvin B. Lane, 43, executive vice president of Lane Magazine and Book Co., the Menlo Park publisher of Sunset Magazine, will head the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

The governor also named four other public members to the commission, which was established by legislation passed earlier this year. They are:

Mrs. Dorothy Erskine, 69, of San Francisco, an officer of several conservation and planning groups, who will serve as vice chairman;

John H. Sutter, 37, Oakland attorney and chairman of the Citizens for Regional Recreation and Parks.

Novato Council Orders Street Seal Coat Job

Highway Safety Supply Co. of Sacramento, lower of two bidders, last night was awarded a $7,998 contract to put a slurry seal on several Novato streets.

The weatherproof seal will be applied to Grant Avenue from Railroad Avenue to Seventh Street, and to parts of Center Road, McClay Road, Simmons Lane, Fourth, Mirabella, Court and George streets. Contract was awarded at the Novato city council meeting.

The Novato city council also:

1. Approved payment of $5,411 to Novato Unified School District for the city's share of operating the swimming pool at the high school for the last fiscal year. The total cost of operating the pool was $10,488.
2. Approved a notice to the state division of highways that it would cooperate with the state in realignment of the Diablo-De Long interchange with Highway 101.
3. Gave council backing to the appointment of Concilman William Jack Adams to the Marin County Transit Board.
4. Named councilmen J. Wayne Womack and Douglas M. Merrill to a committee to make a study of a Novato civic center.
5. Accepted Industrial Way Project No. 3 as completed.
6. Referred back to the planning commission an appeal by William Cannon of denial of permit for a two-story addition to his house at 22 Plaza Loma.
7. Introduced ordinances rezoning from single-family dwelling to light industrial on a lot at Railroad and Olive Avenue for Alfred Bellucci, two from single to multiple dwelling of two lots on East Sixth Street for P. J. Tarrant.
8. Approved annexation of a lot at Topaz Drive and Bolero Road, site for the Bahia sewage treatment plant.
9. Approved by 3-to-2 vote allowing "streamlined" instead of underground utilities in Redwood Gardens Industrial Park at Railroad Avenue and Olive Avenue. Mayor D. Carrow and Councilman Merrill dissented.
10. Adjourned until 8 p.m. next Tuesday to discuss the employees retirement system and the personnel ordinance.

Boiled Beans May Be Banned In Boston?

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. George A. Michael, state director of food and drugs, says that Massachusetts, the home of the baked bean, has no legal standards for baked beans.

Some boiled beans, he said yesterday, are being sold as baked beans. The State Public Health Council has called for a public hearing to set standards. No hearing date was set.

Salvager Plans To Float Liner

DETROIT (UPI)—A salvage expert has announced plans to attempt to float the sunken luxury liner Andrea Doria—a $60 million prize to anyone who can raise her from the depths of the Atlantic.

Capt. Don Henry said yesterday he has formed a salvage corporation which expects within 60 days to raise the sunken vessel by pumping its hull full of a buoyant plastic foam.

The 29,000-ton Italian liner sank in 225 feet of water off Nantucket Island on July 26, 1956 after colliding with the Swedish liner Stockholm. Fifty persons died in the crash.

Drake Bay Relic Hunt Suspended

A search of Drake's Bay for relics of Sir Francis Drake's visit in 1579 has been temporarily suspended, pending worldwide research.

The search will be resumed after the research is completed, "but we just don't know when we'll be back in the bay," John Huston of San Francisco, president of the Council of Underwater Archeology, said.

"We don't know that there is any ship left, either Sir Francis Drake's ship or the Spanish galleon of 1595," Huston said. "Nothing has been found and we don't have much hope of anything but an anchor or something like that."

Huston said that the first search, which started in March has brought forth some clues "in the way of findings on beaches and Indian mounds."

Things such as small pieces of porcelain were found "in a slightly wider circle than originally expected," he said.

Huston requested that anyone who might have any clues notify him at 2647 Pierce Street, San Francisco. He warned that people cannot go out and dig in the area because the land and underwater area belongs to the United States government.

The council has an exclusive permit for underwater exploration and a professor at San Francisco State College has an exclusive permit for land exploration, he said.

Huston described the Drake's Bay search as "a practice site for methods of instruments to be used in Italy."

There are 142 sunken cities in the Western Mediterranean alone, he said.

Hearing Revives Charges Ex-City Aide Defied Zoning

Charges that a former San Rafael chief building inspector used a house at 188 Prospect Drive as a duplex residence when it is zoned for single family were aired before the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Real estate broker Jerry Stone, representing Mrs. Mamie McLaughlin of 188 Prospect Drive, said Andrew A. Thomas used the house as a duplex.

Mrs. McLaughlin sought a variance to permit the house to be used as a duplex. It was denied.

Commissioner Carl S. Brown said the city building inspection department stopped the house from becoming a duplex.

"Then the head of the department went ahead and used it as a duplex," Stone said.

(The charge that Thomas had remodeled the house for duplex use after halting a previous remodeling were aired several months ago in the city council. Thomas left city employ in July, 1964.)

Commission chairman Fred C.Robbins Jr. told Stone the commission could not grant a zone change by variance, and advised him to apply for a change of zone. Stone then withdrew the application for a variance.

Carl Sandburg Has More Restful Night

HENDERSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Poet and Lincoln biographer Carl Sandburg is reported resting comfortably at a hospital in Hendersonville.

Sandburg, 87, is being treated for an abdominal inflamation. He lives at his farm at nearby Flat Rock, N.C.

No Extra Pay For Riot Police

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Police chief William H. Parker says his officers put in 139,339.5 hours of overtime during the Los Angeles riots last month, but will receive no overtime pay.

Parker told a city council committee yesterday that the men would be paid in compensatory time.

Civilian police employees, who put in 4,298 overtime hours, will be paid time and a half in cash, said Parker.

Planning Body Sets Hearing On Standards

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night set for Oct. 13 a hearing on development standards in areas zoned for planned commercial and light industrial uses.

The standards will cover setbacks, outside storage, lot coverage, height of accessory structures and signs.

Charles Linthicum, planning technician and acting city planner, said about 200 acres in East San Rafael is under the planned commercial-light industrial zoning. The majority of this property is undeveloped, he said.

Before setting the hearing date, the commission had to change its regularly scheduled meeting from Oct. 12, a holiday, to Oct. 13. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Commissioners Carl S. Brown and Jorgen V. Lunding were appointed as a two-man committee to study proposed development standards.

Typhoon Floods Kill 18 In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Heavy rains brought on by two approaching typhoons have killed 18 persons, injured 37 and left four unaccounted for throughout western and southern Japan, incomplete reports said today.

Reports said more than 43,000 homes were flooded by the rains which have struck areas in central western Honshu hardest.

Weathermen said that two typhoons churning in the west Pacific today were still liable to veer from their present course and roll towards the Japanese islands.

John Wayne Becomes A Grandfather Again

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor John Wayne's 10th grandchild has been born to his oldest son, producer Michael Wayne and his wife, Gretchen.

The child, Josephine Michele, was born yesterday in St. Vincent's Hospital. She is the Waynes' fourth daughter.

St. Augustine, Fla., is observing its 400th anniversary.

San Rafael Grants Permits For Convalescent Hospitals

It granted Emil Yanke a permit to build a 116-bed convalescent hospital at 40 Professional Center Parkway, to the rear of the existing Northgate Convalescent Center, which has 49 beds.

It also renewed the North Bay Investment Co.'s permit to construct a 99-bed convalescent hospital, across the parkway and slightly west of Yanke's project.

Commissioners also approved plans for both hospitals, but expressed concern about the amount of traffic they would generate along the parkway.

Two of the major items on the commission's agenda were withdrawn by the applicants.

L. H. Lincoln Corp. withdrew its application for a yacht harbor and attendant facilities at the end of Newport Boulevard in San Rafael Cayes.

The planning staff report recommended denial because the proposed use involved fill and would be in conflict with a city council resolution "prohibiting filling of the tidelands on the bay side of the existing levee until adoption of the general plan."

The planning staff recommended denial noting that the proposed mental health center "would introduce office use to what is otherwise a completely residential neighborhood."

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

1. Heard no protest at its first hearing on the proposed rezoning of lots 10-29 on the east side of Kerner Boulevard, between Canal Street and the extension of Bellam Boulevard, from heavy commercial-manufacturing to special multiple residential, as sought by Kerner-Bellam Realty Co. Second hearing will be Sept. 28 at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.
2. Continued indefinitely an application by M. J. Koch for a gasoline service station at Bellam Boulevard and West Railroad Avenue. The vote was 6-1 with Commissioner V. Judson Klein dissenting.
3. Approved plans for a patio canopy and sun screen addition to the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building at Third and Brooks streets, which will be on the internal portion of the PG&E lot.

Negroes Move To Help Watts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A committee of 50 Negro business leaders has launched a program of economic development for the riot-ravaged Watts district.

Many conditions there have their roots "in the fact that the Negro people lack economic strength," Cornell R. Kirkland, chairman of the group's executive committee, said yesterday.

Kirkland, president and chairman of the board of Enterprise Savings and Loan Assn., said that his company is prepared to invest $2.5 million in the riot area and that other companies also have substantial funds to invest.

The committee will cooperate with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Interracial Council on Business Opportunities, said Kirkland.

Shelley Talks Of 'Series' Tickets

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor John F. Shelley plans to personally screen the list of free tickets given out by San Francisco if the Giants make it into the World Series.

Shelley returned home from a 10-day vacation Monday and found a crisis over ticket requests. "Nobody gets any tickets before I've a chance to screen the list," Shelley said. "I mean it!"

When the Giants won the pennant in 1962, owner Horace Stoneham gave the mayor's office 100 tickets for special guests.

Board Ties Strings To Flood Proposal

By RICHARD B. LYTTLE

Marin County supervisors yesterday refused to give the Army Corps of Engineers a "blank check" on design of flood control work in Mill Valley.

Under discussion was the corps' form resolution assuring local cooperation in a flood control project on Arroyo Corte del Presidio.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost told the board that the resolution would not be properly processed through the federal agencies involved if the wording were changed. But the board insisted on adding a paragraph to say county support of the project would be subject to a requirement that the "amenities of the natural environment" would not be diminished.

"It's time to set it straight with the Army Corps of Engineers in print that we are not going to have concrete ditches," Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen declared.

"Amen!" said Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

Frost argued that it will be impossible for the corps to even start design studies until local cooperation is assured.

"We're going to cash a blank check, and then we're going to be the bad guys when we cancel it," Kettenhofen said. "Let them be the bad guys."

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer suggested the issue be put directly to President Lyndon B. Johnson, saying Marin is taking a stand "in keeping with your beautification program."

"Let's write Lady Bird, too," Leydecker said.

"I don't object to going national," Chairman Peter H. Behr said. He added, however, that he thought the battle would be fruitless and necessary flood control work would be delayed.

He said the county and the City of Mill Valley would have the final say in the design.

Kettenhofen cited Corte Madera Creek where proposed concrete work caused cities in Ross Valley to withdraw support for the Army Corps' flood control project.

"Every city in Ross Valley is mad at us," Kettenhofen said. He called failure of the Corte Madera project a tragedy.

Supervisors Approve Health Inspection Fee

County fees, designed to support the cost of inspections by the health department, will go into effect Jan. 1.

Marin County supervisors, after lengthy discussion and a few changes in the fee schedule, adopted an ordinance setting the fees yesterday.

County Sanitarian William Desmond told the board the fees had been set after working out the costs.

"This will mean you are accepting the philosophy that the inspections should be supported 100 per cent by those benefiting from them," he told the board.

Supervisors agreed to this philosophy, but Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen insisted on reducing the proposed maximum for apartment house inspections from $30 to $20 a year and on apartment house pools from $25 to $20.

Other annual fees will be $15 for garbage trucks, $20 for restaurants, $5 for a domestic water well, $15 for septic tank pumpers, $20 for trialer parks and $5 for food vending machines.

Yesterday's discussion was during a public hearing, but there was no protest from the public. The ordinance will become law in 30 days, but the charges will not start until 1966.

Future San Rafael School Cost Up, Before Building

The cost of San Rafael's new elementary school in the canal district is going up, although the building hasn't been started yet.

The San Rafael Board of Education last night called for bids on the school, to be known as Bahia Vista, to be opened Oct. 20 at 3 p.m.

The board also received from architect A. Mackenzie Cantin a new estimate of cost: $517,568, up $57,466 from his estimate of two months ago.

The new estimate takes into account increased pay negotiated by building trades unions this summer. Still more may be added to the cost, Cantin said, because of refusal of Kerner-Bellam Realty Co., from whom the elementary school district bought the site, to pay for half the street improvements.

Supt. Bert C. Corona called the Kerner-Bellam refusal reneging on a former agreement. He told the board he is "negotiating with the city" regarding the street work.

The purchase negotiations for the property, supposedly including agreement to participate in street improvement, were carried out for the school district by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

Included in the site development cost—and not increased in Cantin's latest estimate — is $41,440 for pumping sand fill onto the low-lying land.

Wessin Claims Rudely Expelled

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin says a U.S. Army lieutenant held a bayonet at his back when he was expelled from the Dominican Republic last week.

The lieutenant would not let him go to his home to pick up clothes and see his family, said the general, who led government troops against insurgentes in Santo Domingo.

"An elemental sense of military honor prevents me from accepting the appointment of general consul in Miami from a government that has used foreign troops to send me to exile by force," said the letter, dated Sept. 10.

That was the day Wessin landed in Miami after a trip from Santo Domingo via Panama in a U.S. Air Force plane.

Railroad Fined

SPARKS, Nev. (AP) — The Southern Pacific Railroad has been fined $50 in Municipal Court on a ticket issued to trainmaster James E. Cody Aug. 31. Police charged that the train blocked traffic at a crossing for 36 minutes.

Bay Pair Charged In Phony Kidnap

YERINGTON, Nev. (UPI)—A San Jose couple, who said they were abducted by two Army men Aug. 24, have been charged with second degree kidnaping.

A criminal complaint was filed here yesterday against Omar Ponder, 19, and his wife, Wanda, 18. Also charged were John Colvin, 20, Hudson Falls, N.Y., and James R. Gourlay, 21, San Jose. The three men are in the Army and stationed in San Francisco.

The complaints charged them with abducting Deputy Sheriff Austin Lucas and farmer Gil Clements in connection with a wild chase through the Nevada desert last month which ended with nine persons being held as hostages.

Dist. Atty. Peter Flangas said Gourlay and Colvin will be transferred here from Reno later this week. He said he would try to extradite the Ponders from California.

The bizarre plot started when the four left the Ponder home in San Jose. When they arrived in Sparks, Nev., Ponder slipped a note to a waitress in a cafe saying he and his wife were being kidnaped. A chase eventually ended at the Clements near Fernley, about 60 miles from Reno. Clements, his wife and six children were held at gunpoint. During the ordeal, Deputy Sheriff Lucas was disarmed and held hostage.

Gourlay and Colvin finally surrendered without a fight.

The two were charged with a federal kidnaping complaint and the Ponders returned home.

However, last week, the Ponders admitted the kidnap was a hoax. Asst. U.S. Atty. Merlyn Hoyt in Reno said the four were involved in armed robberies in the San Jose area.

Stowaway Tells Why She Did It

VENTURA (AP) — A woman stowaway on an Orient-bound freighter says she surrendered to the captain because she discovered the vessel wasn't stopping in Hawaii.

Mrs. Joan Dorothy McMahon, of Long Beach said yesterday she boarded the Thompson Lykes there because she wanted to visit her boy friend in Hawaii.

Asked why she didn't keep quiet instead of turning herself in to the captain she exclaimed: "And go to Viet Nam?"

Attempt For Soviet Summit Meeting Fails

MOSCO W(AP)—Czech President Antonin Novotny left Moscow today after reportedly failing in a bid for a Soviet bloc summit meeting on long-range economic planning.

Informed sources said Novotny had called for a summit meeting to coordinate the forthcoming five-year plans of the Soviet Union and its east European allies.

District Attorney Handed San Quentin Heroin Case

Eight of the nine San Quentin convicts suspected of a connection with the high-grade heroin discovered within the prison walls last week have been referred to the district attorney's office for possible prosecution.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today reports on the eight men, made after a hearing of the prison disciplinary committee yesterday, will be in the hands of the D.A. "within a few days."

He added: "The ninth man was found to have violated the prison rules but his offense was not referable to the district attorney." He had in his possession a non-narcotic powder, said Park.

The smuggled heroin, valued at $1,400 was found in two finger-size rubber tubes Sept. 7 in a bucket at the prison's maintenance shop during a routine inspection.

About 35 inmates in the immediate vicinity were questioned. Later, the chief suspects were placed in isolation pending the committee hearing.

According to prison officials, six of the eight bear recent hypodermic needle marks on their bodies.

Papers Returned By Kind Burglars

Unusual consideration for the owner of the Sausalito Boat and Tackle Shop was shown last night by burglars who had entered his store the night before.

Richard Urbias, owner of the Waldo Point shop, yesterday reported his safe stolen. In the safe were $150 in cash and personal papers. This morning he told sheriff's officers someone had returned his personal papers, pushing them through the same rear window broken to gain entry for the original theft.

Officers said they had not found the safe or any of the merchandise taken from the shop..

Marin Aides Disagree On Tiburon Fine Split

Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney do not see eye to eye on interpretation of the law.

Mitchell yesterday asked for and opinion from the county counsel on a contract between the City of Tiburon and County of Marin on providing service, including police protection.

Mitchell said the state penal code calls for 13 per cent of fines collected for traffic and other violations in the city to go to the county, but the contract approved by the board of supervisors last June lets the city retain 100 per cent.

Maloney said today the state law refers to fines collected through citations issued by employees of the city. Since Marin County sheriff's officers are providing the service, the city technically has no employees issuing citations, he said.

Mitchell said this puts Tiburon on a schedule quite different from other cities in the county. He wondered why this was not called to the attention of supervisors when they approved the contract.

Maloney said his office was still researching the matter.

Passer-By Sees Fire Outside Fire Station

William McDonald II was passing the Sausalito main firehouse on Johnson Street at 4:30 p.m. yesterday when he saw a fire in the seat of an out-of-service city pickup truck in the firemen's parking lot.

A volunteer fireman himself, McDonald raced to the firehouse adjoining the lot. Firemen pulled Engine No. 2 out of the firehouse and quickly quenched the blaze. It merely damaged the seat of the vehicle.

'Monstrous' Sign Must Be Cooled

Sausalito city councilmen last night agreed unanimously that the "full moon" sign at the Shell service station at 900 Bridgeway must be reduced in size and intensity before approval could be given on an encroachment application. Shell Oil Co., asked permission for an approximate two-inch overhang of the roof of a proposed new $12,000 station.

Contract To Forde

E. A. Forde Co. of San Rafael was awarded a $24,718.90 contract by Marin County for Reed Boulevard improvements, not Ghilotti Brothers as incorrectly reported in the Independent-Journal a week ago.

Red Cross To Elect

Directors of the Marin County Chapter, American Red Cross, will be elected next Wednesday at the chapter's annual meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael.

Survey Rejected By Reed Trustees

Reed School District trustees last night decided the best way to review district goals in terms of cost to the taxpayer would be in open forums at board meetings.

It was decided a community survey would be too costly and inconclusive and a committee would simply be doing work that should be performed by the board.

Mervin Field of Belvedere, president of the Field Research Corp. and proprietor of the California Poll, said: "People are ambivalent. They all want better schools, but they don't want to spend money."

Mrs. Chester C. Vargas of Belvedere, a member of Correct Unfair Taxation, said she would like to see a large citizens committee that would represent all segments of the community. Mrs. Vargas said the group could act as an audit or for the district.

Trustee Alyce Farkas said she felt such a committee was unnecessary. "Every time we have a budget hearing, we're having an audit," she said.

The board concurred. Supt. Edward C. Pino was instructed to schedule discussions of all "non-three-R" subjects and of pupil-teacher ratios for future meetings.

Trustee Marilyn Steinau said she thought a "profile of the community" would be useful. Pinto was instructed to prepare one from information supplied by local governments and chambers of commerce.

After adjourning at 11 p.m., the board went into closed session to discuss hiring and salary of Mrs. Margaret R. MacAuley of Mill Valley for the newly created position of administrative team assistant for the district.

Pino said salary is a condition of Mrs. MacAuley's employment. She is now working on a day-to-day basis. He produced a list of 13 other applicants for the position to be considered along with Mrs. MacAuley.

The closed session adjourned at 11:10 p.m. with no decision announced.

The Reed District School Board Also:

1. Agreed to forward a resolution to the California School Board Assn. urging support for a special state legislature session on tax reforms.
2. Heard that district enrollment as of yesterday stood at 1,684, up 84 from that projected.
3. Appointed Loren Wesley Johnson administrative intern at $4,400 per year.
4. Hired the following teachers: Mrs. Sandra K. Schulzen at $8,375, first grade, BelAire School; Mrs. Mary J. Hoffen, $8,450, librarian and teacher of children's literature, and Allen R. West, $6,525, humanities team Del Mar School.

Jail Inmate Sets His Cell Ablaze

AZUSA (AP) — Police say a man held on suspicion of murder set fire to the city jail and tried unsuccessfully to escape.

Investigators said Ralph Pulido Santellan, 24, of Duarte, told them he wanted to die and take someone with him.

Interdistrict Classrooms Lease Legal

Leasing of classrooms by one school district to a contiguous school district where there is an existing classroom shortage or to achieve more equal racial balance is legal, the state attorney has ruled.

The opinion was prepared by Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard L. Mayers of Sacramento, at request of Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

It applies to Mill Valley and Sausalito school districts. Mill Valley, short of classrooms and when the board of trustees wishing to assist Sausalito in solving its de facto segregation problem, rented four classrooms at Richardson Bay School. Mill Valley is now busing 115 pupils to the Sausalito school daily.

G. R. McConnell, Mill Valley School District superintendent, said the Mill Valley board first requested an opinion on leasing the classrooms from Douglas J. Maloney, Marin County counsel. He declared the procedure legal.

Then, said McConnell, a citizen of the Mill Valley district requested Assemblyman Bagley to seek the attorney general's opinion.

Both Mill Valley and Sausalito superintendents said today that the introduction of the Mill Valley pupils at the integrated Sausalito school is going "marvelously well."

Missing Youth Found In Daze

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK (AP)—Gary Devight, 23, of Berkeley was treated at Exeter Memorial Hospital near Visalia today after rangers found him wandering in dazed condition last night.

He had been missing in the park since Saturday.

Rangers who found Devight said he had apparently suffered a fall. He had lost his pack and was unable to explain what had happened to him.

He had been reported missing Monday by his parents, Mr. and Victor Dwight.

Senators Agree On Pollution Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate conferees have reached agreement on a water pollution control bill that broadens the federal government's role.

If states do not establish water quality standards on interstate waterways in two years, Washington — under terms of the bill worked out yesterday—would establish the standards for them.

After a final run through the House and Senate the bill will be sent to President Johnson to sign into law.

Interim Poverty Chief Appointed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Resources Administrator Hugo Fisher has a new temporary post as coordinator of California's antipoverty program.

Fisher will be away from his job as resources chief for 45 days, Gov. Brown said yesterday at the conclusion of the governor's annual back country inspection trip.

Fisher will coordinate the many programs proposed to help impoverished areas with heavy populations of unemployed members of racial minorities, such as the Watts section of Los Angeles, recently ripped by violent rioting.

White House Aides Leave Federal Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today the resignation of two of President Johnson's key assistants—speech writer Richard N. Goodwin and Cabinet Secretary Horact Busby Jr.

Both will return to private life — Goodwin to join the staff of the Center for Advanced Studies at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and Busby as a management consultant in Washington.

DOMINICAN CRISIS LAID TO ENVOYS

Sen. Fulbright Charges Diplomats Gave Johnson Faulty Advice On Revolution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., characerized U.S. policy in the Dominican crisis as a failure, and said today the principal reason was "faulty advice given to the president by his representatives in the Dominican Republic at the time."

He said President Johnson, on the basis of the information and counsel he received, could hardly have acted other than he did.

But, he declared, "it is very difficult to understand why so much unsound advice was given to him."

The U.S. ambassador in the Dominican Republic when the crisis developed, and still at his post there, is W. Tapley Bennett Jr., a career diplomat.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a statement that after a personal review of the situation he is convinced President Johnson had available no easy choices in the Dominican Republic revolt.

"Nonetheless, it is the task of diplomacy to make wise decisions when they need to be made and U.S. diplomacy failed to do so in the Dominican crisis," he said.

He said that while it could not be assumed that the United States could have changed the course of events, the administration did not take advantage of several opportunities in which it had a chance to do so.

Fulbright, who has differed with Johnson over policy in the Dominican Republic and in Viet Nam, did not mention the president by name. He directed his criticisms at diplomatic officials.

He said that very close to the beginning of the revolution, U.S. policymakers decided that it should not be allowed to succeed.

"This decision seems to me to have been based on exaggerated estimates of Communist influence in the rebel movement and on distaste for the return to power of Juan Bosch or of a government controlled by Bosch's party, the PRD (Dominican Revolutionary Party)," he continued.

"On the basis of fragmentary evidence of Communist participation, the United States assumed almost from the beginning that the revolution was Communist-dominated, or would certainly become so.

"It apparently never occurred to anyone that the United States could also attempt to influence the course which the revolution took. We misread prevailing tendencies in Latin America by overlooking or ignoring the fact that any reform movement is likely to attract Communist support.

Yachtsman Has Answer To Tax

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The owner of a Great Lakes watercraft must pay a $5 Michigan plate tax if the craft is 16 feet or longer.

One boat owner didn't want to pay.

"Consequently," the unidentified owner wrote Secretary of State James Hare, "I have removed one inch from the bow of the boat. The boat should now be listed as 15 feet 11 inches."

Atom Center Site Listed In First Pruning

Atomic Energy Commission today announced the first narrowing of its list of sites in contention for a proposed $300 million atom smasher.

The announcement confirmed a United Press International dispatch that 41 sites had been lopped off the original list of 126 locations applying for the giant project.

Three of the 46 states seeking the project were cut out of the running altogether—North and South Dakota and Wyoming.

The 85 sites remaining were sent to the National Academy of Sciences for further pruning —to a half-dozen or less. The final selection presumably will then be made by the AEC.

There is heated competition for the project since it will employ more than 2,000 high-salaried scientists and technologists.

Among sites still being considered are the Gila River Indian Reservation, Phoenix and Tucson in Arizona; the San Francisco area and San Diego in California; Willamette Valley in Oregon, and Hanford in Washington.

Massachusetts Has Severe Rainfall Lack

BOSTON (AP) — Massachusetts has a rainfall deficit of 11.83 inches since last October, says Malcolm E. Graf, director of the Water Resources Commission.

Graf says Massachusetts in August had 3.02 inches of rain compared with a normal August rainfall of 4.02 inches.

Russ Scientist Claims Moon Is Radioactive

PASADENA (AP)—A new and highly controversal portrait has been painted of the Moon by a Soviet scientist as the result of experiments he conducted along Russia's Volga River.

Dr. V. S. Troitskiy, told an international scientific meeting Tuesday that the Moon is packed with radioactivity that has turned at least one-third of its mass into a raging, molten inferno that produces temperature four to five times as great as those on Earth.

Further, Troitskiy said, such a picture is not inconsistent with an old theory that says the Moon once was part of the Earth.

That opinion, although not generally endorsed by space scientists, maintains that a gigantic upheaval ripped the Moon billions of years ago from what now is the Pacific Ocean.

Evidence, say the theorists, can be found in the scarred, pock-marked floor of the Pacific, where geologists have traced crevices seven miles deep and still active volcanoes. But western scientists, although in agreement over the complexity and importance of Troitskiy's work, were in general disagreement with his conclusion.

Troitskiy and some 140 other top international space scientists are attending a six-day lunar and planetary conference at the California Institute of Technology.

Many scientists, especially those from the United States, believe the Moon is a cold, dead object that relies on the Sun for its heat. Perhaps the most generally held belief is that the Moon was originally a planet that was captured and held in the Earth's gravitational pull.

But many at the meeting agreed that Troitskiy's theory, if correct, could explain the lava-like formations that were extensively photographed by the U. S. series of Ranger Moon shots.

Another Soviet space scientist, Dr. B. J. Levin, has held that the Moon is molten 400 miles below the surface. Levin, from Moscow, was unable to attend the meeting because of illness.

Troitskiy said he used special equipment to measure radio signals that crossed the 240,000 miles of space from the Moon by combining signals of varying wave - lengths, he determined what he said were surface and below-surface temperatures.

The Moon's surface, he said, is a porous material approximately 20 feet thick. Below this, is a thick, rock-like formation. And below that, approximately 500 to 700 miles from the surface, is the molten heat source.

Custody Battle Mother Tells Of Threats On Life

A 25-year-old San Rafael mother said today that she will fight for partial custody of her 2-year-old daughter in San Francisco Superior Court tomorrow despite threats on her life.

Mrs. Diane C. McCollum of 45 Louise Street, San Rafael, told San Rafael police that she has been receiving threatening phone calls since Labor Day. She reported that she gets three or four calls every night and during the early mornings.

One call told her, "If you show up in court Thursday you'll get a face full of acid," she reported.

The child has been in the custody of her ex-husband, Kenneth McCollum of San Francisco, since they were divorced last December, Mrs. McCollum said.

Preserve Areas To Be Mapped

Marin County supervisors yesterday requested the county planning commission to hold hearings on a master plan for areas which could be placed in an agricultural preserve.

Under a new state law to take effect Friday, ranchers can get a break on property assessment by signing a 10-year contract with the county agreeing to keep the property as an operating ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wheelwright submitted such a contract for their 600-acre Green Gulch Ranch last week.

The agreement cannot be made unless the land is in an agricultural preserve.

Fence In San Anselmo Will Stay If Room Made For Fire Hydrant

Bert Oberg Jr. of 71 Berkeley Avenue, San Anselmo, appeared before the San Anselmo City Council last night "in regard to an unpleasant neighborhood and property situation."

Oberg told the council that when he and his mother moved into their home in April, "we were invaded by neighborhood children and dogs."

When he complained to police and to the Humane Society, he incurred the hostility of his adult neighbors, he related. He decided to put a stop to the whole problem.

"Our property has a large front lawn. A previous occupant erected a brick pillar and rail fence on the front boundary. In order to protect our property from the neighborhood children and dogs, we erected an attractive board fence (four feet high) on the previously existing fence," he explained.

But when the fence was complete, he said, neighbors complained to the city that it was on city property—about five feet of it to be exact. Oberg asked the council to let him keep the fence there.

"If the fence is moved back five feet," he said, "Then the area outside the fence will become the neighborhood eyesore. The dirt and grass would attract children and dogs."

Fire Chief Frank Souza said his only objection to the fence was that part of it blocked a fire hydrant and its cutoff valve. He said if an indention in the fence were made there, he would agree to its remaining.

Oberg hastily agreed to this and the council voted to grant him an encroachment permit for the fence, subject to the provision that he make room for the fire equipment.

During the meeting, Oberg also settled one other grievance with the city. Shortly after he moved in, he refused garbage collection service and said he wished to haul his garbage to his own dump in a nearby county.

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt told him he was required by law to subscribe to the collection service. Flautt said he planned to have the council order the service and add the bill to his property tax assessment. Oberg said that was not necessary; he would comply with the city ordinance.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Referred a plan for construction of 54 town houses near the Hub Intersection back to the planning commission. Developer Norman T. Gilroy requested a change in the planned ownership of the buildings and the council said this would require another public hearing.

2. Granted a permit for blasting at the Red Hill school site, subject to supervision by the city engineer.

3. Awarded a contract of $1,579.50 for sealing San Anselmo Avenue to Highway Safety Supply Co. of Sacramento.

4. Awarded a contract for an oil distributor to Edward R. Bacon Co. of San Francisco at $2,737.28.

5. Agreed to withold decision on bids from five companies for changing the signals at Sequoia and Red Hill avenues for two weeks. The city engineer's estimate was $2,000 less than the lowest bid received.

6. Gave W. A. De Cook until Oct. 31 to move or raze his house at 676 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The home was undermined by an earth slide and was judged unsafe by the building inspector.

7. Gave first reading to two ordinances dealing with final subdivision maps. The first extends the time limit for filing a final map from one year to 18 months. The second necessitates soil reports before that map is submitted. Both amendments are made to coincide with new state laws.

8. Set for Oct. 19 a meeting with the planning commission to discuss rezoning the town center.

9. Passed a new septic tank ordinance conforming with that in the county.

10. Approved a waiver of the slope policy and granted a variance for a slightly undersized lot to allow W. A. De Cook to erect a home at 254 Redwood Road.

11. Declared the performance bonds of Del May Investment Corp. in default because of uncompleted work on Indian Rock subdivision units one and two. The action asks the corporation's bonding companies to complete the work.

Tools Missing

W. K. Polhemus, body shop foreman at Campbell Bishop Chevrolet, 5860 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, told police yesterday that he is missing $135 worth of tools. He said he thought they were taken by two employees who quit recently.

Things Will Keep Getting Bedder

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Beds of the future will be so large the current king-dize beds will seem small.

Grant G. Simmons Jr., president of Simmons Co., discussed the future of bedding with furniture retailers at a local convention. "Americans are no longer contented to sleep on a simple slab," he said.

Not only will new beds be larger, but also they will be adjustable. "A combination of head up or feet up, or something in the middle, rather like a hospital bed, is the coming thing," Simmons said.

'Cluster' Development In Blithedale Canyon Backed

Mill Valley planning commissioners last night voted unanimously to recommend that property of William S. Allen in West Blithedale Canyon be divided into 15 lots for single family residents, with 12 acres to be left as open space.

The proposed "cluster type" development was discussed for three hours prior to action.

One condition is that Allen provide passing zones on West Blithedale Avenue between Lee Street and Ralston Avenue and on Ralston to help traffic conditions. Access to the subdivision is to be via Manzanita Place, Harvey E. Bragdon, planning director, reported.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission also:

1. Recommended that an area on West Blithedale Avenue between Oakdale and Hillside Avenues, now zoned interim duplex be rezoned single-family.

2. Approved permits for William Eberhart to operate a used car lot and vehicle rental and leasing business at 630 East Blithedale Avenue, and for Mobil Oil Co. to add to Eberhart's service station.

3. Recommended rezoning of Alto Bowl No. 1 annexation, a 137-acre area north of Lomita Avenue between Highway 101 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. track, from unclassified to single family residential with a minimum of 15,000 square feet per lot and rezoning of North Ridge annexation, 206 acres, from unclassified to single family planned development which has no minimum lot sizes.

Board Approves Tomales School New Shop Plans

Plans for a new shop building at Tomales High School were authorized last night by the district board.

George Quesada, architect, was given the go-ahead to draw plans for the shop.

Plans for rehabilitation of existing buildings have been going back and fortth between Quesada and the State Department of Education, but have not been given final approval, he reported to the board.

Supt. Anthony Matulich reported three new portable classrooms had arrived from Speedspace of Santa Rosa, but were not erected yet. He also reported a new septic tank system has been installed to replace the old one.

The board set regular meeting time as the second Thursday of each month ata 8 p.m. at the school.

Theft Reported At Coffee Shop

Theft of $97.50 in coins, kitchen utensils, and cigarettes was reported yesterday to San Rafael police.

Angelo C. Dell'Oca, manager of the Medical Center Coffee Shop at 338 D Street, reported at 8:30 a.m. yesterday that the items were missing from his shop.

He said a screen over a back door transom had been removed and the door opened.

Patrolman Rescues Embarrassed Raccoon

Walter Provines telephoned Mill Valley police at 7:11 a.m. today reporting a raccoon "tsuck in between some rocks" across the street from his house at 60 Corte Madera Avenue.

More Teaching Time Aim Of Fairfax School Study

Teachers are co-operating in a study in Fairfax which may result in giving them more time to teach children and less to spend on "housekeeping chores."

A report on the study so far was made last night to Fairfax School District Board by Supt. Homer Sisk.

He said today: "The board asked me to study ways of eliminating the kind of small tasks that crop up to take the teacher away from her primary job."

Playground duty and supervision of children during lunch breaks were examples, he said.

The teacher found some relief in the hiring of an aide, he said, but it was hoped the study, expected to be finished in a month, will pinpoint sources of the problem.

He said he had asked the 34 teachers in the school district to suggest ways of reorganizing their duties.

Sisk also reported work would begin today on clearing the old Smith Brothers Ranch, west of Fairfax, for use as a school site. The demolition jos is expected to take 21 days, he said.

Castro Lauded As A Man Of Culture

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro has been described as "a man of culture who keeps himself posted on all the world's problems and puts them in focus with great vision."

The appraisal was attributed by Havana radio to Mexico's Ambassador Fernando Pamanes Escobedo, a Mexico-Cuba friendship week interview with the Havana paper Revolucion.

"This is the perfect antidote to those concussingly sweet little swift sellers known as 'grandmother books.' This is more of an 'aunt and uncle impulse item,' released by the publishers as something for all ages. It goes on like this: "I like you because you know when it's time to stop being silly . . . Maybe day after tomorrow . . . Maybe never . . . Oops, too late, it's a quarter past silly." Well, that's our kind of time, but then, the average age around here is a quarter past thirty on the stork of early senility." Virginia Kirkus

Few Bus Complaints Are Heard By Board

Bus transportation complaints —which come around about as regularly as the start of the school year—were heard from only one area at last night's meeting of the San Rafael Board of Education.

Three mothers from Peacock Gap complained that their children, who rode the bus to Glenwood School last year, have to walk this year.

John Thomson, plant and transportation superintendent, said this was because completion of Castlewood Drive has placed the children's homes within one and one-half miles of school.

A Mrs. Coughlin, most vocal of the complainants, declared: "I wish the board would walk it. When they do, my child will." She claimed the road goes over a very steep hill.

Acting Chairman Carl J. Brown and Board Member Anita C. Strom promptly offered to try the walk. Meantime, at suggestion of Brown, the children will be picked up at San Pedro and Peacock Gap roads if there is room on the bus which takes children from the farther side of Peacock Gap Lagoon.

No one complained last night about busing of children from the upper Lincoln Avenue area to San Pedro School, or from the Sun Valley area to Coleman School, which brought complaints at opening of school last week.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Approved a series of temporary raises for some teachers getting special assignments for the new school year, and hiring of the following new teachers: Mrs. Bernardine Angeli, intermediate grades, $6,980 per year; Mrs. Robin Barnett, intermediate grades, $5,636; Rosemarie Beitzer, high school home economics, $6,176; Mrs. Oweda Dickey, high school business education, $5,972; Mrs. Patricia Geiger, primary grades, $6,687; Karen Hart, high school girls' physical education (part time), $3,583; Mrs. Ann Hatch, cooperative nursery school, $2,000; Eleanor Kiearn, elementary school French and Spanish, $6,308; Mrs. Margaret Connell, cooperative nursery school, $2,000; Mrs. Dorothy O'Hanlon, high school reading, $8,324; Judith Ohlson, high school mentally retarded, $6,644; Mrs. Ethel Seiderman, cooperative nursery school, $2,000; Mrs. Judith Vaughn, high school mathematics, $5,846.71.

2. Appointed the following home instruction teachers, at $6 per hour: Mrs. Gertrude Hines, Mrs. Barbara Rosenberg, Mrs. Olive Thompson.

3. Named Martin Parlan, former mathematics teacher at Terra Linda High School, as vice principal of Gallinas School, with a $400 per year raise.

4. Hired the following non-teaching employees: Mrs. Barbara Channell, bookkeeping clerk, Terra Linda High School, $1,618.90 per year; John Hunn, bus driver, $2.34 per hour; Gail Kaller, bus driver, $2.22 per hour; Harold Ludvigson, bus driver, $2.22 per hour; Richard Mastin, bus driver, $2.22 per hour; Larrie Mead, bus driver, $2.22 per hour; Stanley Rouse, substitute bus driver, $2.22 per hour; Mrs. Ethel Suhl, bus driver, $2.34 per hour; Norman Tibbs, custodian, Terra Linda High School, $4,620 per year; Dawson Wilke, bus driver, $2.22 per hour; Dennis Wright, bus driver, $4,620 per year; Mrs. Norma Young, secretary to vice principal of Terra Linda High, $4,620 per year.

5. Agreed to hire substitute teachers hereafter from the list prepared by the county superintendent's office.

6. Accepted the resignation of Leo Shortino, principal of Glenwood School last year who was demoted to teacher last spring but had not been assigned. Shortino reportedly has accepted a principal's job in another district.

7. Accepted resignations of Raymond Canziani, Terra Linda High custodian; Mrs. Barbara Cole, bus driver; Raymond Hanson, San Rafael High custodian; Mrs. Barbara Lindberg, Terra Linda High economics teacher, and Mrs. June Rader, secretary in the superintendent's office.

8. Postponed to Sept. 28 discussion of the budget for the cooperative nursery schools at San Rafael and Terra Linda High schools. Board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., examining the latest of several reports on the nursery schools, commented, "I see a variety of different figures as to the necessary money to make the nursery schools self-sustaining."

9. Was informed by Supt. Bert C. Corona that the expected plans and specifications for the gymnasium and food center additions at Davidson Junior High School were not ready.

10. Signed a joint powers agreement with the City of San Rafael covering construction of the Glenwood School Bridge.

11. Awarded Coast Visual Education Co. of Hollywood the contract for foreign language laboratory equipment for San Rafael High at $6,900, despite objections by the low bidder, Roger Wurtz Co. of San Rafael, who had quoted $6,350. Thomson said Wurtz's equipment did not meet the specifications.

12. Heard from chairman Brown that the citizen committee for the tax increase election on Oct. 12 has worked out a schedule for putting out information to the public, and will meet again tomorrow night.

13. Appointed Kramer as the board's representative on the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

14. Approved lease of two portable classrooms, joined together to make an industrial arts room at Terra Linda High, at $4,200 for the year plus $875 for relocation from San Rafael High, where they were used last year.

15. Adopted a resolution calling for sale of $500,000 in elementary district bonds.

16. Called for bids to be opened Oct. 7 at 3 p.m. on tennis courts and field development at Terra Linda High, although Corona said the staff is still rewriting the specifications since bids on a previous call were all too high.

17. Voted to hold the Sept. 28 meeting in the new library at Davidson Junior High School.

18. Directed that proposed new text books in general shop, American government, woodshop and philosophy be put on public display at the administration building from Friday through Sept. 30. The philosophy text, "A History of Western Philosophy" by W. T. Jones, would be the first text adopted since that course was added to the San Rafael High curriculum about six years ago at suggestion of John C. Curtin, who teaches it.

19. Discussed new legislation which calls for a "negotiating council" to represent teachers when the teaching force includes more than two organizations, and for a civil service setup for non-teaching personnel.

20. Authorized awarding contracts for a long list of athletic materials on bids which were opened July 1.

Radio Shack Entered

Two voltage meters and several radio fuses, worth a total of $30, were reported missing from the radio repeater shack of the VHF Expositionary Society on top of Black Mountain, near the Santa Venetia Nike Base.

Society member Richard Williams of 809 Diablo Avenue, Novato, said yesterday that the door to the shack had been pried open sometime during the past week.

Elementary Enrollment Up; Two High Schools Down

Enrollment in San Rafael elementary schools is up 239 over this time last year, but that in the city's two high schools has dropped slightly, the board of education was told last night.

Enrollment as of Monday, the fourth day of school, was higher than last year in eight of the elementary schools and lower in five, a report prepared by Asst. Supt. William R. Jordan showed.

Increases were at Coleman School, from 495 to 513; Davidson Junior High, 681 to 764; Gallinas, 260 to 262; Glenwood, 332 to 430; Laurel Dell Primary, 269 to 297; San Pedro, 379 to 434; Sun Valley, 251 to 295, and Santa Venetia Junior High, 253 to 261.

Decreases were at Hartzell, 370 to 358; Laurel Dell Intermediate, 323 to 307; MacPhail, 353 to 339; Short, 292 to 288, and West End, 248 to 238.

San Rafael High School had 1,495 enrolled Monday, or 62 fewer than on the fourth day of school last year. Terra Linda High was down 41, from 2,099 last year to 2,058 this year.

Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat said transfer of ninth graders from the former San Jose School District to Novato High School accounted for the drop.

Semimonthly Pay Decision Put Off

Marin county supervisors yesterday decided to give more study to shifting from a once a month to a twice a month pay periods after learning that 336 county employees were for it, 326 were against it and 186 did not care.

Supervisors thought the shift might be helpful for some employees, particularly those on the lower end of the pay scale.

Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, who polled employees, said those in the sheriff's office and department of public works were overwhelmingly in favor of two checks a month.

The shift for all employees would add $5,300 to county accounting costs, Mitchell said.

Astronauts Embark On Goodwill Journey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's accolades received, astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. set out tonight on a goodwill tour of the Middle East and Africa.

Because it is a goodwill mission and because Washington wants to accent the peaceful aspects of space exploration, the Gemini 5 astronauts will be traveling in civilian clothing — although both are military officers.

Firemen's Dance

$50,000 Sought In Rocket Blast

A rocket in the form of a $50,000 damage claim landed in the lap of the Marin County supervisors yesterday all because a sheriff's inspector—who is also a Boy Scout—did his good turn for the day.

Inspector Harvey Teague supplied life raft flare rockets to add spectacle to a pageant held June 5 on the College of Marin football field by the Marin County Boy Scout Council, of which he is an executive board member.

One of the rockets was faulty, claims Mrs. Margaret Zegart, 118 Highland Lane, Mill Valley. It went astray, hitting and breaking the leg of her 5-year-old son, Jamin.

In the claim, presented to the supervisors yesterday, it was alleged the sheriff's office supplied the rocket to the Boy Scouts.

"Teague supplied the rockets purely as an individual member of the Boy Scouts," Mountanos said. "They did not come from this office, neither have rockets of this kind ever been stored here."

The sheriff said he had no knowledge of where Teague got the rockets and added: "After a thorough investigation, I am satisfied there is no evidence to either blame him or reprimand him.

"When he passed them over to the Boy Scouts he gave precise instructions as to how they were to be handled."

Stars Now Parents

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Edd Byrnes and actress A Maynor are parents of their first child, a boy born Monday night at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. The couple was married March 25, 1962.

No Protests Rise On Housing Ban

No one appeared before Marin County supervisors yesterday to protest an amendment to the zoning ordinance which will restrict establishment of residences in industrial and commercial zones.

The ordinance, adopted by the board, will ban residences from industrial zones and allow them only on a use permit basis in commercial zones.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told supervisors that earlier protests by property owners that the amendment was too restrictive had been quieted with the assurance that supervisors would be "reasonable" in applying it.

Railroad Hearing Date Is Changed To Oct. 18

An Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad's bid to abandon two lines in Marin, which was scheduled for Sept. 20, has been postponed to Oct. 18.

Attorney Boris H. Lakusta, who is leading the legal fight for re-opening of the Puerto Suella tunnel, said the date was changed because he has challenged the railroad's new application for abandonment.

Lakusta, representing San Rafael and Marin County in the fight to keep full rail service, said he hopes the hearing is never held.

The railroad has requested first, that it be permitted to abandon the Sausalito branch, which starts just north of Corte Madera.

Its second request includes two choices; either abandonment of the main line from Meadowsweet, east of Corte Madera, south to Tiburon, or else leave that section and abandon the Puerto Suello tunnel.

La Jolla, city in San Diego County, was perhaps named from the Spanish word "joya" (jewel), or from "hoya" (hollow), descriptive of the rocky caves in the ocean cliffs.

LBJ's Farm Bill Passage Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate managers of the Johnson administration's farm bill predicted today that a final compromise on the two versions of the legislation will be worked out satisfactorily.

The Senate cleared the four-year measure yesterday by a 72-22 vote after revising it in four days of floor debate to conform more closely to the administration's views.

The final version won support of 56 Democrats and 16 Republicans while 14 Republicans and 8 Democrats voted against it.

Arnold Palmer Putting Course Opens At Vivian Way, San Rafael

Miniature golf has come back to San Rafael with the opening of the Arnold Palmer Putting Course on Vivian Way, across from the Country Club Bowl.

Daniel D. Lamberti of San Rafael, retired master sergeant from the Army, and Alvin F. Payne of Mill Valley, former coin-operated laundry owner, have leased something like a third of an acre through Dreyer, Wilson and Co. and have turned it into a full 18-hole course.

This is a franchised operation from the Aronld Palmer Co., headquartered in New Jersey, which has about 160 similar putting courses, par-three courses and driving ranges throughout the United States. A new type of weatherproofed carpeting is used which simulates the action you'd expect to get on a well-kept green and is said to help the game of golfers who are week with a putting iron.

Hours are from 4 to 10 or 11 p.m. throughout the week, and from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

NEW STORE expected to open in the Strawberry Town and Country Village almost any day within the next week is Bath Renaissance, a venture of Robert J. McKendrick, a San Francisco law student.

"Furnishings for the elegant bath" describes the contemplated stocks, according to Mrs. McKendrick, who is expected to spend some of her time helping in the store. This will include towels, bathrobes, soaps, bath oils, soap dishes and gold faucets.

According to the developer, Wherritt and Brown, 23 leases have been written, only two physicians — Dr. James E. Donovan and Dr. Elmer A. Wreden Jr. — had moved in, but more were expected this week, and the balance by the end of the month. Physicians Optical Co. will also open its fourth Marin outlet here in October.

JOSEPH AND MARGARET KENDRICKS, owners of the Woodacre Market on San Geronimo Drive, Woodacre, are in the process of selling this business, but it may be another month before the transaction is completed. The purchaser, Mrs. Carmenita Bird of San Francisco, has been ill. Transfer of the off-sale wine and beer license must also be approved.

Prior to taking over the market two years ago. Kendricks was with the California Highway Patrol and he intends to return to this line of work. Mrs. Kendricks will give up business so she can spend more time with her family.

THOMAS A. R. GULDMAN of Corte Madera has been appointed group supervisor in the process design division at the Richmond laboratory of Chevron Research Corp., in charge of work to design improved refining processes. Educated in England, Guldman has acted as a consultant to a European affiliate of Standard Oil Co., aided in the start of new manufacturing plants and has designed manufacturing processes.

All models will be on display at Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley on Oct. 7.

Airline Has First Million Ton-Mile Day

NEW YORK—American Airlines has produced the first million ton-mile day in the history of the domestic airline industry.

Marshall D. Kochman, vice president for cargo sales and services, said that on Sept. 9, the airline's freight system had hauled 1,087,000 ton miles of freight—a larger volume in a single day than it had carried in all of the first seven months of 1945, the first full year of American's freight operations.

Chrysler Claims Doubled Size In Three Years

CHICAGO — Chrysler Corp. is approximately twice the company it was only three years ago, according to Chrysler President Lynn A. Townsend.

Retail sales of Chrysler built cars in the first six months of 1965 totaled 702,000 units in the United States, compared with 667,000 sold in the whole year of 1962.

Dollar volume of the company's sales of all products reached $2.6 billion in the first six months of 1965, compared with $2.4 billion for the entire year of 1962.

Total assets of the company now stand at .8 billion, compared with $1.5 billion in 1962. Net worth has risen from $770 million to $1.5 billion in the same period.

The number of shareholders has increased from 78,000 in 1962 to 135,000 now.

The name Madera means wood, timber. The county so named because it was the end of a 63-mile flume carrying lumber from Soquel Basin in the Sierra sugar-pine forests.

Master's Degree Holders Earn More In Business

CINCINNATI — Companies in every line of business are seeking college graduates with masters degrees and they're paying more for them, a report by the Midwest College Placement Assn., showed as the result of an annual survey of recruiting results and practices.

For example, the average starting salary for a masters degree holder with a technical background rose 2.5 per cent during the past year compared to 2 per cent for the non-technical background.

Non-technical masters degree holders were paid a differential of 27 per cent over men starting their business careers with a bachelors degree and technical masters degree holders were paid a differential of 20 per cent.

Such salary data—along with information on manpower projects for 1966 and the use of co-op and similar internship programs—was revealed in the copyrighted survey released at the association's annual conference in Cincinnati Monday.

With many of the major nationally known corporations among the 335 companies participating, the survey is a compilation of the reported recruiting results based on 172,000 college campus interviews with inexperienced 1965 graduates from colleges and universities across the nation.

In addition to salaries reported for the 20 college major subjects starting salaries are indicated in each of 23 industrial categories, such as accounting, aerospace, banking, chemical, insurance and metals.

The report was issued by F. Lynn Cason, of Purdue University.

Bay Chemical Firm Has New Herbicide

Jackson Lake Lodge, Wyo.—A new herbicide developed by the Dow Chemical Co. has been described by scientists here today as the most significant development since 2, 4-D.

New Cadillac Agency Due In Twin City

There will be new show rooms and service facilities for Cadillac automobiles established in Corte Madera by next spring.

The new business will be known as Bianco Cadillac, said Leonard L. Proaps, president of Bianco Motors, Inc., San Rafael. He said the company will continue to sell Pontiac automobiles and GMC trucks at the present showrooms at Fourth and E streets in San Rafael. Bianco Cadillac will probably be separately incorporated, he said.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission Monday night granted Bianco a permit for the auto sales and service agency at 201 Casa Buena Avenue, near Tamalpais Avenue. Casa Buena Avenue at this point is a service road parallel to and west of Highway 101.

Proaps said his company has an option on the purchase of approximately 50,000 square feet of property, and plans will be drawn for a structure which could be as large as 20,000 square feet.

The move to separate Cadillac from the San Rafael sales and service facilities of Bianco was brought about by a recently concluded survey of sales and service in the San Francisco metropolitan area by Cadillac Division of General Motors, Proaps said. The survey established that Bianco facilities in San Rafael are now being used to their fullest extent and provide no further room for expansion.

Streaking Giants Boost Lead To 3½

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willie Mays did it again. Sandy Koufax didn't.

Mays, who hit his 500th career homer just 24 hours earlier, made it 501 last night, sparking the National League-leading San Francisco Giants to a 10-inning, 7-5 triumph over Houston.

Koufax, however, found only the number of his losses increased in his first start since pitching a perfect game against Chicago last Thursday. The Cubs beat Koufax and Los Angeles 2-1.

The Giants were losing 5-2 going into the ninth inning. But Jesus Alou singled home a run and was on first with two out when Mays came to bat.

He worked the count to 3-2, then fouled off four pitches from Claude Raymond before he drove the ball into the left field seats for his 48th homer and a 5-5 tie.

San Francisco went on to win it in the 10th on Jim Davenport's two-run single, and the Giants had a 12-game winning streak, tying the longest in the majors this season, and a 3½-game lead, biggest in the NL since July 21.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, fell into a tie for second place with Cincinnati as Koufax suffered his eighth defeat against 22 victories and his fourth in his last five decisions. Actually, the perfect game is the only victory Koufax has posted in the past month.

Koufax also didn't travel much further along the road to breaking Bob Feller's all-time season strikeout record of 348. He fanned three in the six innings he worked, raising his total to 335.

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati clobbered New York 13-6, Philadelphia trimmed Milwaukee 2-0 and St. Louis edged Pittsburgh 3-2.

In the American League, Minnesota nipped Kansas City 4-3, Baltimore downed Detroit 5-3 before losing 7-1, California whipped Chicago 7-1, New York stopped Washington 3-1 and Boston edged Cleveland 5-4 in 13 innings.

Jim Hart started the Giants off in the 10th with a walk, and Len Gabrielson singled him to second. Both advanced on a ground out, Mike Cuellar walked Jack Hiatt intentionally and Davenport followed with his pinch-hit single for two runs.

Billy Williams sent Koufax down to defeat, slamming his 31st homer after Jim Lefebvre booted Young's grounder in the sixth. Bob Hendley, who pitched a one-hitter in Koufax' perfect performance, held the Dodgers to four hits, including Don Drysdale's pinch-hit, run-scoring single.

Frank Robinson drove in five runs with a pair of homers as the Reds handed the Mets their 101st loss. Vada Pinson knocked in three runs with two singles while Bill McCool saved Jim O'Toole's third victory of the season, all against the Mets. Roy McMillan drove in three New York runs with a single and a double.

John Callison's two-rum homer in the first inning and Jim Bunning's two-hit pitching dropped the fourth-placed Braves six games from the top. Callison connected off Hank Fischer after Rich Allen led off with a single. Bunning posted his 17th victory against eight defeats.

Pittsburgh, in fifth place, fell 7½ games back as St. Louis' Bob Gibson brought his record to 18-10. Two errors by first baseman Donn Clendenon led to all three Cardinal runs. The Pirates also missed out on the tying run because Clendenon was thrown out when he failed to tag up on a deep fly ball in the eighth inning and had to retreat to third base.

CROW WILL FLY ON JUST 1 WING

MORAGA, Calif. (UPI) — All five San Francisco running backs will be ready Sunday when the 49ers open their season against the Chicago Bears.

Coach Jack Christiansen yesterday announced that John David Crow would be "ready to play" despite a broken left hand. Fullback Gary Lewis, who has missed two games with a leg muscle pull, also was pronounced ready for Sunday's battle.

The 49ers yesterday pared down to the league limit of 40 by slicing former Oregon State All-American end Vern Burke, who was out off 1964 with injuries.

That meant that six rookies had stuck with the team. Fullback Ken Willard is the lone first year starter, while offensive linemen Joe Cerne, Jim Wilson and defensive halfbacks George Donnelly and Vern Swinford also are on the club, barring trades.

Christiansen also announced that practice hereafter will be opened to the public on Tuesday. He also said that mistakes made against the Rams in last Sunday's exhibition game "were corrected in a firm manner" in yesterday's drill.

A Testimonial For The Champ— Fred Apostoli Is Remembered

"The fight business is rough, but I loved every minute of it. To get anywhere you have to be hungry —by that I mean, well, you seldom see a rich man's son or a college graduate winning a title.

"And another thing: There's no room for mercy in fighting; it's a battle of survival. It's either you or the other guy. Sure, I was what you'd call a rough fighter. I wanted to get rid of the other guy in a hurry. But I was never intentionally dirty."

APOSTOLI WAS one of the ring's finest because he was what the trade calls a "hungry fighter." Motherless at the age of five, he learned heartbreak and poverty before he learned the alphabet. He was bounced around from relative to relative before landing in a boys home where knuckle sandwiches were served daily by the tougher kids and if you didn't fight back you were seeing your dentist more than twice a year. At 15—an age when today's kids enjoy the time of their lives—Alfredo Apostoli was toiling 12 to 15 hours a day on a chicken ranch.

HE NEVER did finish school, the little bum. With a head start like that it's a wonder he didn't become a doctor or a lawyer.

Fred Apostoli took the "easy way." He wandered aimlessly—plasterer, sheet metal worker, carpenter's assistant, pig tender, messenger boy, freight elevator operator, bell boy.

BUT FREDDIE Apostoli had "something" going for him. In boys home he learned to handle his dukes and count to 10 standing over somebody; and he won friends, among whom were smart boxing men who steered him into the right hands; and after 50 amateur fights and a meteoric rise in the pro ring, Fred Apostoli reached the peak of his profession on the night of Nov. 19, 1938, when in Madison Square Garden he knocked out Young Corbett III to win the world middleweight title.

FREDDIE ONLY ruled the class for 11 months, but he fought in an era when any of the top 10 could probably lick today's top two or three. Too, Alfredo Apostoli never ducked a fight and his over-all pro record from 1934-1949 included 64 victories, (31 by kayo), 10 losses and one draw. He fought 11 men who at one time or the other held world titles, and beat 9 of them!

Apostoli distinguished himself further during 54 months' service in the Navy in World War II, during which Ring Magazine named him "Man of the Year" for, as Editor Nat Fleischer then wrote, "Apostoli has seen plenty of service in the South Pacific, has been through the thick of the fighting for the past year, and also has been coaching boxers and achieving amazing results in the line of morale."

THE ARTICLE was accompanied by an Associated Press story in which Ensign John Mitchell Quigg, Apostoli's superior, asserted that, "If anyone deserves the man of the year boxing award, it is Fred Apostoli, both from a standpoint of bravery under fire and because, as a morale builder-upper, his influence on the seamen in the entire task force has been remarkable."

IT'S BEEN almost 27 years since Apostoli reigned as boxing king. But his friends haven't forgotten his story, nor have they forgotten his many fine contributions to a sport that desperately needs good clean men like him. Next Monday night at the Grand Ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel they're throwing a testimonial party for our fine paisano. Now 52 years old, I'm sure Freddie Apostoli will rate Sept. 20, 1965, on a par with Nov. 19, 1938. They're expecting 700 to 750 to attend this party for a man who now sells promotional products for Mack Newman Inc. and keeps active in the ring as a referee. It's one party I wouldn't miss and I hope his many Marin friends help pay him this tribute he so richly deserves.

YOU DIDN'T have to see Freddie Apostoli fight to recognize him as a champion. Just shake his hand and look into his eyes. It's there.

P.S. Tickets ($12.50 per) can be obtained by contacting Allan Murray at 20 H Street, San Rafael.

Clay, Patterson Title Bout To Be Held In Las Vegas?

NEW YORK (AP) — A few hitches have developed but the heavyweight title fight between champion Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson still appears headed for Las Vegas on Nov. 22.

Patterson was named the opponent, Inter-Continental Sports, Inc., as the promoter, and SportsVision as the organization to handle the closed circuit television. This was announced at a hectic press conference yesterday but the site and date were left open to negotiation.

Sources involved in the promotion had told several newsmen previously that Nov. 22 and Las Vegas were set. After the press conference, where a lot of people had a turn at trying to explain what had happened and was going to happen, these same sources said it still looked like Nov. 22 and Las Vegas.

What apparently upset the works at a covered press conference was an earlier announcement from Reno, Nev., that the Nevada Athletic Commission had approved the Nov. 22 date for Las Vegas but that the fight would not be recognized as a title fight.

Bud Traynor, chairman of the commission, said that Nevada was a member of the World Boxing Association and the WBA does not recognize Clay as champion. Later, after he had been told of a statement by Jim Deskin, Traynor changed his position and said Nevada would permit it to be billed as a title fight if the WBA gave its approval.

Deskin, executive-secretary of the Nevada Commission and the new president of the WBA, was in New York for the press conference and said Traynor's statement must have been "a mistake or a misunderstanding.

"My understanding was that the Clay-Patterson and a Terrell-Chuvalo fight would have double billing as championship fights," said Deskin.

The promoters still hope to put on that doubleheader despite announcements from Toronto that a title fight between Ernie Terrell, the WBA champion from Chicago, and George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion, will be held in Toronto this fall.

Some Injuries Pop Up At Early Warriors Practice

The Warriors held a full-scale scrimmage last night. Other National Basketball Association teams are scheduled to go into game - style conditioning practices in about one week.

Injured in the practice session were veteran Guy Rodgers and rookies Wilbert Frazier and Keith Erickson, all with pulled groin muscles. Veteran Tom Meschery had a pulled thigh muscle.

Hannum did not specify how many squad members he planned to cut initially, saying only that he wants "to get down to a more workable number of players." NBA teams carry 12 men during the regular season.

THE COMPUTER PICKS GIANTS BY 10-1 ODDS

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The late-season spurt of the San Francisco Giants has given them a 10 to 1 probability to win the National League pennant, according to an electronic "brain" at Franklin Institute.

The Honeywell 1400 computer yesterday rated the Minnesota Twins a likely American League flag winner by an awesome 10,000 to 1 probability and a final season mark of 102 victories and 60 defeats.

Baltimore and Chicago will tie with 91-71 records for the runner-up spot and Detroit will follow with an 89-73 log, the computer figures.

The mechanical mind indicates the Giants will finish with a 95-67 record, four games ahead of the Los Angeles Dodgers with a 91-71 mark. Cincinnati and Milwaukee should tie at 89-73, with Pittsburgh fifth at 88-74 and the Philadelphia Phillies sixth with 85-77.

COLLEGE PICKS

A Rough Start For Top Football Teams

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Remember back in the good old days when Gargantua University always opened its football season by crushing Itsy Bitsy College?

How do you like these pairings for openers: Alabama vs. Georgia, Syracuse vs. Navy, Notre Dame vs. California, Minnesota vs. Southern California, Kentucky vs. Missouri?

Anyway, the first picks of the 1965 season:

Nebraska over Texas Christian: Nebraska, voted the nation's best in the AP's pre-season poll, has two varsity quarterbacks and possibly the country's best defense. Sonny Campbell is a stickout receiver for the Texans.

Texas over Tulane: Scholastic requirements supposedly hurting Texas football morale but not enough for the Longhorns to bow to Tulane.

Notre Dame over California: Both teams lost their ace quarterbacks via graduation but Notre Dame has the best prospects.

Michigan over North Carolina: Dick Vidmer, a Pennsylvania transplant, will make Michigan forget all about the loss of All-America quarterback Bob Timberlake. Practice injuries have hurt North Carolina.

Alabama over Georgia: Everybody remembers that Joe Namath, the $400,000 pro rookie quarterback, starred for Alabama last full but almost everybody has forgotten that he was hurt half the season and that Steve Sloan was a spectacular replacement. Sloan is the Alabama field boss in his own right

NFL Shuffle Ends Without Any Melody

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

You don't need a partner and musical accompanyment is strictly optional. Just clutch a suitcase tightly in each hand and commit the latest plane schedules to the other 13 National Football League cities to memory. You're ready to do the NFL shuffle.

Darrell Dess, one of the league's top offensive guards, who spent six years playing in New York, is the neest expert of the fad that fed on NFL cutdowns yesterday.

Dess, traded by the Giants to Detroit just two weeks ago in the Earl Morrall deal, was changing uniforms again today after being swapped by the Lions to Washington for quarterback George Izo and offensive guard Ted Karras.

Karras had been traded to the Skins by Chicago last week but had refused to report to Washington and asked to be dealt to Detroit where his brother, Alex, is a top defensive tackle.

Another shuffler is Billy Lothbridge, the former Georgia Tech quarterback and punter who was traded by Dallas to Baltimore two weeks ago for Ralph Neely.

The Colts trimmed Lothbridge and two other players, defensive tackle John Diehl and defensive end Roosevelt Davis, to reach the 40-man limit yesterday.

Don Thompson, a defensive end, knows all the shuffle steps too. Dealt by Philadelphia to Dallas just two weeks ago, Thompson was also cut yesterday as the Cowboys trimmed their roster. The Cowboys also dropped rookie defensive back Ernie Kellerman.

Washington, in addition to sending Izo and Karras to Detroit, dropped veteran running back Tom Tracy and offensive tackle Steve Barnett.

Mike Bundra, a defensive tackle who has made stops at Detroit, Minnesota and Cleveland, was dealt by the Browns to New York for a draft choice.

San Francisco released Vern Burke, onetime star end from oregon State; Los Angeles dropped defensive back Herman Johnson from Michigan, guard Roger Davis from Syracuse and linebacker Ed Holler from South Carolina, and Green Bay sliced tackle Eli Strand of Iowa State.

Philadelphia asked waivers on defensive back Bob Shann and offensive end Bill Cronin; St. Louis cut tight ends Tax Anderson and Ray Ogden and guard Frank Roy; and Pittsburgh dropped five players, tackles Bob Toniff and Frank Mallick, linebackers Bob Harrison and Bob Schmitz, and back Pat Batten.

Giant Spark Has Turned Into A Roaring, Blazing Forest Fire

CONNOLLY

The "rock crusher" to the pennant chances of the San Francisco Giants has boomeranged, delightfully. The eight-day suspension and $1,750 fine to pitcher Juan Marichal stimulated not only the Dominican Dandy's mound work but ignited a spark in the Giant household that is now blazing and roarin' like a forest fire, sweeping everything in its path, as the team moves toward a National League pennant.

Juan, with 22 pitching victories, seems stronger, more eager, and is mentally and emotionally relieved. Especially is he grateful to S.F. fans. The ball club is steaming along at a terrific clip, and for the first time this year, its own momentum is paying big dividends.

"I wanna say thanks to everyone for graciously accepting my sincere apology to John Roseboro (Dodger catcher). I regret it ever happened. I promise it won't happen again," Marichal told me contritely.

IN ADDITION TO perking up Marichal, the Roseboro ruckus seems to have cemented the Giant team effort, almost beyond the fondest expectations.

"The new feeling on the club as a group ignites the hope of everyone for a pennant."

Sheehan says it is remarkable the way pennant fever spreads on a ball club in contention. Everybody wants to be in on the kill. For example Orlando Cepeda actually is begging to get into the lineup. He wants action whether it is in the outfield, infield or as a pinch hitter. He'll be letting off steam pretty quick if he isn't injected somewhere along the line.

SHORTSTOP DICK Schofield scoffs at his aching legs. He wants to play every game, bum "gams" or not. Jimmy Davenport, a hero last night, Matty Alou and Cap Peterson, likewise crave action, if only for brief periods.

Pitcher Juan Marichal already has volunteered to pitch a double header, if needed. Bob Bolin, Bob Shaw and the veteran southpaw Warren Spahn, rotating starting pitchers, clamor at a hint that any of them might miss their regular turn. With Frank Linzy, Masanori Murakami, Bill Henry along with alternate starters Gaylord Perry and Ron Herbel constituting the bullpen, manager Herman Franks is sitting pretty comfortably as the team heads into the final games of its 162 game schedule. There has never been a greater team effort by any Giant club since the team arrived in 1958. The entire aggregation is in the "stretch drive" as a single unit. Personalities, if they ever existed, now are buried deep in an all-ount effort to grab the pennant.

LITTLE DID Warren Giles, National League president, expect his fine and suspension of Marichal to have that effect on the Giants pennant chances.

There isn't much doubt about WHY the extra urge by the players is showing up. Sniffing a $10,000 or so World Series "cut" is a pretty nice objective and should call for all the hustle and bustle anybody on the club possesses.

MONEY DOESN'T enter the pennant surge," preached Franks, smiling slyly, of course, as he says it.

"It is now a matter of pride with our gang. I think we have a great chance but we can't and won't let down."

A SAD MOMENT FOR SANDY KOUFAX

Los Angeles ace pitcher Sandy Koufax wonders what went wrong as Cubs' Billy Williams (background) rounds first base after clouting a two-run homer off Sandy. The homer gave the Cubs a 2-1 win over the Dodgers who fell 3½ games behind league leading San Francisco. Last time Koufax faced the Cubs he pitched a perfect game, but this time it was Bob Hendley's turn to pitch the victory. (AP Wirephoto)

Billy Casper Has A Pre-Tourney Prize

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Billy Casper, who has won the Portland Open golf tournament three times, has a prize before this year's tournament begins—a barrel of fish.

Casper, touring pro from Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael, took five days off from golf last week to go steelhead fishing on the Rogue River in Southern Oregon.

"It was wonderful," he recounted on the Portland Golf Club course, where the $50,000 tournament will open tomorrow. "Most of the fish we caught were 12 to 18 inches and some bigger ones got away—with lots of equipment."

The fish he caught are in a barrel in a freezing compartment in the clubhouse for later shipment home.

The touring professionals will take part in pro-amateur play today. The four-day tournament will follow.

Casper, who is averaging fewer strokes per round than any other professional this year, is among the favorites. The comparatively short course, 6,445 yards, puts emphasis on putting. Casper consistently is among the best putters in the business.

MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

COLLEGE OF MARIN grid fans can take heart in the following quote from Diablo Valley Coach Sam DeVito whose Vikings scrimmaged our Tars last week: "Marin has a real fine ball club and I was tremendously impressed. Against their defense we tried everything in the book and they just threw it right back at us. Defensively, they're as sound as any team I've seen at this stage of the season. They're aggressive, they hustle and they have pride. A credit to their coaching staff. They made a better club out of us in that scrimmage. Marin is smaller than most junior colleges, but they'll be mighty tough to move against."

National Amateur Golf Tournament Gets Underway

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A bright-eyed, brash young Englishman set out in the National Amateur Golf Championship today, challenging a tradition that's older than his father, unfamiliar, strength-sapping heat and this country's best amateurs.

The long odds really don't matter.

And he really isn't playing well.

"Not well at all," the dark-haired teen-ager said after his final practice round over the 9,917-yard Southern Hills Country Club course. Then he added brightly:

"But it will come back. Once the tourney starts it will all come back. I have no fears."

Townsend, who will be 19 this week, and 20-year-old Clive Clark, both members of the British Walker Cup team, are recent graduates of a British golf youth program and pose the greatest challenge to the U.S. Amateur Championship in more than 50 years.

An Englishman hasn't won it since 1911, five years before Townsend's father was born, and the big trophy hasn't gone out of the United States since 1932 when Canadian Sandy Somerville won at the Baltimore Country Club.

Tradition and competition bother Townsend not at all. But the terrible heat, sending temperatures to record readings well over 100 each of the last two days, could cause trouble.

"It makes all the difference in the world," the handsome youngster said. "It tears at your strength and makes you lose your concentration. You get careless, sloppy."

And then the confidence of youth bubbled up again.

"Of course, that's in practice. I'm sure in regular play it will be different. You can't get too intense in practice. I was playing well in Baltimore."

He was indeed. He and Clark contributed six points to the British total of 11 that brought a tie with the United States in the Walker Cup matches, a moral victory for the British.

The searing heat has caused considerable trouble, not necessarily limited to the eight members of the British Walker Cup team in the field of 150 competing for the title won last year by Bill Campbell, Huntington, W. Va.

Roger Brown, Arkansas City, Kan., collapsed after a practice round early in the week but was back the next day. Dean Beman, a two-time champion from Bethesda, Md., and the favorite to win this first amateur title at medal play, quit after nine holes yesterday.

High Hopes For New Tam Coach

Hector Impressed By His Indian Gridders

(Last in a series on Marin Athletic League football prospects.)

By RALPH CHATOIN

"We're starting out from scratch," says new Tamalpais head football coach Willie Hector, and he has the attitude that makes you feel Tam will scratch enough to make 1965 a winning season.

He doesn't know how many returning lettermen he has because he wasn't around Tam last year and to him that was history; he's concerned with 1965.

The Indians have size and "boys who can hit hard," said Hector. A former pro guard with the Los Angeles Rams and Denver Broncos, Willie has brought that formation with him to Tam. It's the Pro-T, with wide flanker and split end.

SPREAD FORMATION

"We'll do a lot of running and a lot of passing," said Hector.

"With our spread formation we'll be trying to get kids out in the open." Hector, returning to his alma mater to coach, said, "I feel I have some good boys. If the rest of the teams in the league are stronger than us, it is a much tougher league than it is given credit for."

Tom Lacy, a transfer student from Nevada, appears to be the starting quarterback for the Indians, backed up by Barry Warnock who played some quarterback last year for Tam. Both are seniors.

Split ends for Tam include Mike Biber (6-0, 175) and Steve Riter (5-11, 175), both very good receivers, according to Hector. Tight end is Dennis Quinn (6-0, 185). Flankers are Fred Hilton, described by Hector as "an excellent blocker," and Honor Jackson, who "has good hands and is fast."

SHIFTY RUNNER

Mike Fowler, a sophomore up from last year's freshman team, is expected to be the first string fullback. He weighs 170, stands 5-11, and is a shifty runner with good balance. The other running back, in the halfback spot, will probably be Don Smith (5-7, 150), "a really tough kid," says Hector. Backing up Fowler at full is Kirk Sparks.

"Weh ave quite a few juniors and some sophomores on the team," said Hector, who earlier this year said he had a "no cut" policy to give all the kids a chance to play.

Tam has some hefty tackles in Gary Stephens (6-0, 200), Barry Brink (6-2, 220) and Paul Austin (6-1, 190). Brink will be playing defense and Austin offense.

BOTH WAYS

"We'll be trying to get boys to specialize on either offense or defense, but some will probably go both ways," said Hector.

Senior guard Gary Cotton (5-10, 170) will be playing linebacker on defense for the Indians. Horace White (6-0, 190) is another linebacker lauded by Hector, and Ken Blasingame (6-2, 189) has been impressive as a defensive end.

"Our whole defensive team has been looking good," said the new head man, "and most of the kids have already gotten the fundamentals down." He said he felt the Pop Warner football program is probably the reason so many of his players have already mastered the fundamentals of the game.

"We have good receivers and our blocking has looked good. Some of our kids look better than some of the guys I have played with in college ball," he said.

ASSISTANT COACH

Hector's assistant coach is Norm Cady who moved over from Jefferson High in San Francisco, so both varsity coaches are in the dark on what to expect from opposing league teams. "We'll just have to wait and see what they are like," said Hector.

The Indians will get a preview of what to expect this year when they open the slate Saturday afternoon against Riordan. That game, at Kentfield, will start at 1:30.

Last year the Indians won only two of six games in Marin Athletic League competition, losing three and trying their last game of the season, with Redwood.

Sat., Sept. 18 — Riordan at Kentfield, 1:30 p.m.

Arkansas over Oklahoma State: The Porkers are proud of their stingy defensive line and their two running backs, Bob Burnett and Jim Lindsey.

Tennessee over Army: The Cadets open away from home for the first time in 76 years. After Tennessee gets through with them they will wait another 76 years before doing it again.

Southern California over Minnesota: Mike Garrett is the top runner on the West Coast and the Gophers don't have the speed to contain him.

Louisiana State over Texas A&M: The Louisiana Tigers are dreaming of an unbeaten season now that unlimited substitution permits the return of the Chinese Bandits.

Purdue over Miami of Ohio: But the Boilermakers had better not spend too much time thinking of next week's battle with Notre Dame, always bruising contest.

of no title billing, was 20 minutes late for the press conference. He entered the restaurant, site of the conference, with a glum look on his face.

Then he walked out to confer with Archie Foster, a member of the Louisville group that has him under contract.

Clay then said he didn't know about the press conference yesterday and it was "a little rushed."

He said he would fight Patterson before Christmas but that he had not agreed to Las Vegas as the site and Nov. 22 as the date.

"I'm trying to get what's best for me," said Clay. "I want the best deal. I've got various offers — from New York and some big countries including Sweden. They love Patterson in Sweden. Los Angeles is a nice place, too."

"He's the champ," said Patterson. "Wherever he says, that's where it will be."

South Rights Workers Getting Younger Now

The South, by now used to the sight of the collegiate civil rights worker in his dirty dungarees and T-shirt, got a surprise last month by the youthfulness of the 15 and 11-year-old sons of David Fogel who pitched in like older youths at a Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee project in West Helena, Ark.

Fogel, director of Marin County Juvenile Hall and the yet-unopened Family Rehabilitation Center, spent part of his three-week vacation in the South, helping on several civil rights projects.

"The kids went with me when I went to Arkansas, and so I asked how they could help. We had a lot of toys and sporting goods with us which had been donated for the project, and the kids joined right in with the local Negro children, playing ball and other games. They fit in wonderfully," said Fogel.

Fogel said the opportunity to help on the Arkansas project was a welcome one for his boys. "They've seen people coming to our house all the time to be interviewed before they headed south to join rights projects, and of course they've heard an awful lot about the civil rights movement. I guess they were really pleased to be able to actually take part in it."

But after three days in Arkansas, Fogel was called by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party to assist on several projects in Mississippi. He then sent the boys to New York to join their mother. I wouldn't expose them to the dangers of violence in Mississippi," said Fogel.

Fogel, who was chairman of the screening committee for the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party last spring, visited many of the 125 Bay Area youths who were doing work for the party in the state.

"Half of the civil rights workers in Mississippi this summer came from the Bay Area," said Fogel proudly. "That's because we had an organization here to screen and direct them.

"I learned a great deal of respect for young people when I saw the way those kids are working down there. As one of the young civil rights workers put it, 'In the South it's sort of a race to see if the whites can find love in the people before the Negro finds hate.' I wouldn't want to try to guess which side is winning that race either."

County Supervisors Clarify Employees' Freedom Area

Marin County supervisors agreed yesterday that county employees serving as staff personnel for county commissions and committees should be free to advocate their views, but only until the commission or committee arrives at a policy decision.

Using the county planning commission and the planning staff as an example, the supervisors discussed the question of how much freedom of expression the staff should have.

"We support complete freedom of staff until a policy decision has been adopted," said Supervisor Bryon W. Leydecker. Once policy is established, the staff should support that policy, he declared.

"The professional staff should be able to offer independent judgment without fear or favor," asserted chairman Peter H. Behr.

All supervisors agreed that once the planning commission makes a policy decision, it's up to the staff to support that decision as best it can. If the board of supervisors later asks for staff thinking, then the staff members should be allowed to re-express their independent views.

Supervisors asked Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows to reduce these ideas into a policy statement for presentation next week.

Machine Errs; Power Company Bills Double

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Alabama Power Co. had some explaining to do when several thousand Mobile County customers received bills double or triple the usual rate this month.

The error was in the computer billing machine, officials said. R. E. Pride, division manager, said new bills are being mailed to the customers affected by the machine's erratic billing.

Tables Will Enhance Fine Art

The relationship of fine art and table decor will be displayed at the Northgate Group's Table Decor and Tea at the Marin Art and Garden Center on Sept. 24, from 1 until 4 p.m.

Mrs. Curtis S. Knowles, David C. Dorward and Mrs. James E. Barnes, co-chairmen, and Mrs. John C. Smith, coordinator, announce that 42 table settings will be displayed in the Frances Young Gallery and on the Center grounds. As the Marin Society of Artists 38th Annual Art Exhibit will be hanging in the gallery, a number of tables will complement the award-winning art. Table settings in many styles will be displayed, also, near the magnolia tree lawn and on the new esplanade to the Antique Shop.

Fine porcelain and crystal will grace Mrs. Levant Brown's "San Francisco Luncheon in 1870" and Mrs. Elliot Wesley Seymour's silver-and-white "Two at Twilight" table. Also in the formal manner are "Tea Time," designed by Mrs. Emil Reillac for the Garden Society of Marin and Mrs. H. Wallace Hickman's garden party for the Marin Garden Club.

KEYED TO AUTUMN entertaining is the amber and gold cloth on Mrs. Sydney Dorn's "Dinner in Autumn" table and the celadon green and brass of Mrs. Laurence Dashiell's Halloween buffet table. Timely also are the Halloween themes of Mrs. John R. Ball and the fall fruit decor of Mrs. Patrick Foster's design.

Holiday entertaining is expressed by the "Oriental Christmas" table set by Mrs. George Ososke and "Season's Greetings, the lavender and pink buffet table arranged by Mrs. Robert H. Berry. Red and white ornaments made by her children will feature Mrs. James H. Barber's "Family Christmas" and Mrs. William F. Upton has selected a "Child's Christmas" as her theme.

Fun with anniversary parties is exemplified by the "Tin Anniversary" table designed by Mrs. Ralph A. Alden and Mrs. Rolla B. Hess, and the "First Anniversary" setting with all-paper accessories arranged by Mrs. Donald Perry. Mrs. Paul Hughes and Mrs. William Van Winkle of Pixie Parents will set a "Children's Birthday Party" table.

Dining in the international manner will be featured in a number of tables. "Buon Sapore" designed by Mrs. Frank A. Barsocchini and Mrs. Raphael G. Dufficy will have Italian pottery on a small Florentine table. Mrs. Fred Meyer of the Marin Society of Artists has also selected an Italian theme with her "Saluti per Tutti" arrangement.

"Por Favor el Almeurzo esta Servida" is the Mexican theme created by Mrs. William L. Kapranos. Shell mats and black lacquer will highlight the al fresco Oriental setting designed by Mrs. Lewis J. Kerlin and decanters create a Gallic atmosphere for apertifs arranged by Mrs. Irving Randall.

Mrs. Russell Smith arranges pewter for her "Raleigh Tavern" table and Mrs. John Brebner of the Marin Shakespeare Festival will stage a Shakespearian feast with "Banquet Not to be Eaten."

Showcases of imaginative whimsey are Mrs. Fred Herrington's "Drinking Man's Diet" and Mrs. Frank Dettner's setting, "Cost Plus". Fun with dining appointments continues with Mrs. John F. O'Connell's "Everything Goes into the Dishwasher" and "The Boy's Fourth Meal" a two-o'clock feeding snack set by Mrs. William G. Morrisey III for the Ross Valley Players. Red, white and blue is the "Yankee Doodle Dandy" table designed by Mrs. Selwyn H. Grahan and Mrs. Glen E. Parrott. The Art and Garden Unit of the Marin Junior Theatre sets a breakfast table with Mrs. Peter O'Toole's "Cock-a-Doodle-Do."

"Continental Camping" and "California Camping" are the settings selected by Mrs. Donald Smith and Mrs. James E. Barnes. Informal entertaining is exemplified by "Soup Supper after the Concert" designed by Mrs. Raymond Thayer for the Marin Music Chest, and "Our Curry Supper" Mrs. J. Perk Stone's settings for the Decorations Guild. Old Dresden china is used by Mrs. Walter C. Beatie Jr. for her "Chocolate with Grandmother" and Mrs. Frank J. Griffin and Mrs. Frederick

AUGUST WAS AN important month for the Parker Woods of San Rafael. Not only do the couple mark their birthdays, but it is also their wedding anniversary. To celebrate the occasion this year, which will be their 53rd anniversary, the Woods left Aug. 31 for a two-week vacation in the Canadian Rockies and Lake Louise and returned to San Rafael today.

Deeply involved with the third International Industrial Conference in San Francisco are Belvedere's Mayor and Mrs. Merritt Ruddock. The couple entertained a group of 14 guests, including two representatives of Nigeria, one East Pakistan delegate, and an emissary from Nicaragua at dinner at the World Trade Club earlier this week. Before the dinner, the Ruddocks served cocktails to their guests at the pied a terre they maintain in San Francisco. Merritt, director of the World Affairs Council for Northern California, has had a major role in arrangements for the conference.

This is a green pea from

RIVER VALLEY

This is the portrait of a self-satisfied vegetable. It's a little bit greener, a little bit sweeter, and (like all RIVER VALLEY frozen vegetables) it costs from 5% to 25% less than other top quality brands. Our picture is slightly enlarged. But if our green pea could swell with pride, it would be the size of this page.

NOT WHAT THEY EXPECTED—Mr. and Mrs. Kirby (otherwise, Constance Craig and Eric Kollgaard) are astonished on entering the home of their son's sweetheart, Essie (Elaine Jacob, far right), to find her in a ballet routine and Mr. De Pinna (Art Bliss) posing as a Roman discus thrower. It's a scene from the hilarious "You Can't Take It With You," which the Novato Community Club will present Friday and Saturday and again Sept. 24 and 25.

He was not arrested on a charge of forgery, as was reported incorrectly yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Koreans Claim U.N. Violated Red Air Space

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — North Korea charged today that a United Nations Command transport plane violated the Communist air space over the west central front Sept. 5.

Maj. Gen. Park Chung-kook, Red delegate, told the joint military armistice commission, that a twin-engine C47 flew across the demilitarized zone into North Korean air space about two miles north of the zone before flying back to the south.

The Communist delegate also said a naval patrol craft of the into North Korean waters off the east coast Aug. 31.

U.S. Army Maj. Gen. William P. Yarborough, the U.N. delegate to the commission, said the alleged violations will be investigated.

Ocean Explorers Get Diaper Rash

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Living at the bottom of the ocean gives a man a high-pitch voice, a chill, ear trouble and something resembling diaper rash, say nine aquanauts who tried it.

But someday, they added, man may be able to roam under the seven seas in a mobile laboratory.

Aquanaut Jay D. Skidmore said the all-helium atmosphere they breathed gave them squeaky voices that sounded like a speeded-up phonograph record.

"It created a lot of hilarity at first," said Skidmore. "After a few days we got used to it and toward the last it seemed extremely normal."

Capt. George Bond, chief of the project, said the experiment pointed towards eventual development of completely mobile laboratory housing in which 35 men could go anywhere in the world, do any underwater job and return while decompressing on the way.

He said such mobility could best be obtained by modification of a nuclear submarine.

Congress Viewed As Battleground

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief architect of the 1963 march on Washington said today Congress has emerged as the battleground for the nation's civil rights movement.

"There is not a major city in the country that has the resources, finances and the will to integrate schools or to bring about employment for Negroes or to destroy slums," Bayard Rustin said in an interview.

"The Negro has finally realized that to accomplish this will require votes, planning and billions of dollars from Congress," he added.

This realization, Rustin said, is the most significant aspect of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party's unsuccessful attempt to unseat the state's five congressmen.

Novato Club Offer Moss Hart Comedy

Moss Hart's comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," will be presented by the Novato Community Club at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the Novato Community House, Machin and De Long avenues.

It will be repeated at the same hour Sept. 24 and 25.

Others in the cast include: Donald Kelly as the Russian ballet teacher; Arthur Bliss, Mr. De Pinna; Alex Consagra, FBI agent; Claudia Bliss, Russian countess; Patricia Conway, maid, and Kenneth Craig, her boy friend. Robert Whisenhunt, Grant Nelson and James Cermak play three G-men.

Survey Claims Goldwater Didn't Really Scar GOP

BY DON BACON
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—The Republican Party apparently suffered no permanent loss of voter support for nominating Barry Goldwater as its presidential candidate last year, a leading political scientist has concluded.

This runs contrary to the opinions of many political observers who have assessed the future of the Republican Party. They argue that the nomination of the Arizona ultra-conservative and his defeat at the polls will hurt the party in the congressional elections next year and in the presidential elections in 1968.

But Dr. Donald E. Stokes, program director of the University of Michigan's respected survey research center, has found in an intensive study of the last four presidential elections that voters seldom transfer their feelings about a candidate to the party he represents.

Goldwater, the researcher told the annual convention of the American Political Science Assn., will likely be forgotten by the voters at election time next year and in 1968.

He said that "party loyalty" has remained almost stable for the past 12 years, fluctuating little despite the wide swings in the total votes cast for presidential candidates. It is the candidate, his personality, appearance, positions and behavior that make the difference in presidential elections, he concludes.

Congressional elections, Stokes said in an interview, "more clearly involve party loyalty" than do presidential elections. Therefore, "it would be astounding," he added, "if President Lyndon Johnson didn't lose a sizable number of (House) seats" in 1966.

In analyzing the Johnson-Goldwater race, Stokes found that Goldwater produced "negative" response in enough voters to cause a temporary erosion of party loyalty, while Johnson produced a "positive" response that attracted voters to the Democratic side.

In Stokes' statistical findings, Goldwater was the only "negative" candidate nominated by either party since 1952. "If our estimates are right," the political scientist said, "the transition from Richard M. Nixon to Goldwater cost the Republicans something like 7 per cent of the totaal vote."

The survey research center, which conducts periodic economic and political surveys, reported recently that slightly more than half of the total electorate considers itself Democratic, while 24 per cent considers itself Republican. In 1952 the Democratic portion was 47 per cent and the Republican 27 per cent.

Thus, Stokes said, to achieve victory in a presidential contest, the Republican Party must overcome its "party loyalty" disadvantage by putting forth a candidate with immense public appeal.

The Republican Party in 1968 could make an elective comeback through "the simple change of candidates," Stokes says. "The taint of Goldwater depends on his role next time more than his 1964 role."

Stokes' study, which in part was based on extensive voter interviews, also revealed that foreign policy issues were not decisive in the 1964 campaign. Until last year, he said, the Republican Party had enjoyed an advantage over the Democrats in the foreign policy area, with the Democrats recognized by some as a party of war. But the legacy "dissolved altogether in the contest between Goldwater and Johnson," he added.

He said by 1964 an earlier voter notion that the Republican Party was better qualified to conduct the country's affairs" had been neutralized by the Democrats and "swept away."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Finding Cure For Snoring Could Make You A Million

VAN DELLEN

He who discovers a way to stop people from snoring will have a path leading to his door. This amendment of the mouse trap story is mentioned because a great need exists and no one has come close to solving the problem. This is said with due respect to the more than 300 anti-snoring devices registered in the United States patent office. As I see it, the majority are aimed at keeping the individual awake and not to relieving the symptom.

According to Spectrum, most of these gadgets are used to keep the mouth shut, the tongue flat, or the sleeper on his side. The simplest is a chin strap and the most complicated is a breast plate that has a rest to support the chin.

THERE IS AN electronic device that sets off an alarm when the mouth drops open. Others include diaphragms and plates to be worn between the lips and teeth. The rubber ball sewn on the back of the pajama is an oldie and the same can be said of tying the wrist to the side of the bed or the use of metal arches or prodding devices.

Most of these fail because a competent snorer can rattle the house with his mouth opened or closed and regardless of the sleeping position. We know where the sound originates, but we need more information on why one out of eight snores. Most of us are equipped to be raucous but sleep quietly. Exceptions occur among children with enlarged adenoids and adults with narrow or congested nasal passageways, polyps, or an elongated uvula.

THE ANSWER may be found by probing the mind and the emotions. Brain wave tests show that snoring stops when the individual dreams. There also is evidence that the psyche may play a role — an unconscious method of getting even with the sleeping partner. However, this is unlikely.

Researchers report that sleep is heralded by the early relaxation of the oral muscles. Snoring at night usually begins within an hour after falling asleep. It occurs sooner when drunk or after taking a barbiturate. In the day time it comes on earlier. At any rate, early snoring is a sign of instant deep sleep. How else can a person saw wood without awakening himself?

DOUBLE VISION

T. J. M. writes: Recently I have been troubled with double vision. I am 68 years old, retired, and have worn glasses most of my life and I work part-time in a bank. This condition began shortly after a long night of work (10 hours). Could this have caused my problem?

REPLY

This is doubtful. Double vision may stem from a minor stroke, but an examination will be needed to determine the exact cause.

BUNIONECTOMY

A reader writes: Please tell me what is done in a procedure called a bunionectomy?

REPLY

Several procedures have been devised to correct a bunion. The most common consists of removal of a wedge-shaped piece of bone that allows the big toe to resume its normal position.

MAXIMUM HEIGHT

A reader writes: I have read that people do not attain their maximum height until age 35 to 40. Is this true?

REPLY

No. This is the exception because the vast majority attain maximum height by age 20.

STORING VITAMINS

I. G. writes: Where is the best place to keep vitamins during the summer months?

Peace Corps Continues Sending Men To India

BY ERWIN KNOLL
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Peace Corps officials are anxiously watching the warfare between India and Pakistan, but have gone ahead with the scheduled departure of more than 200 American volunteers to the two embattled nations.

"We have changed no plans so far," a Peace Corps spokesman said Thursday. "As far as we know, the volunteers are going."

U.S. military assistance to both India and Pakistan was halted last week after the long-standing dispute over the Kashmir territory erupted into heavy combat. A Republican move to cut off economic aid was defeated in the House of Representatives.

Next Saturday 83 poultry workers in training at St. Johns College, Annapolis, Md., are due to leave for India. Ninety-five nutritionists, now training at the University of California's Davis campus, are scheduled to depart for India Sept. 22.

In Pakistan, where the Peace Corps contingent is smaller, 84 volunteers were on duty when the fighting began. They are to be joined by 20 rural community development workers on Sept. 22.

A final decision to delay departure of the volunteers would be left to Peace Corps directors in India and Pakistan. Officials here have been in consultation with the directors and have been advised to go ahead with the schedule, unless new developments force a change in plans.

International disputes have caused relatively few disruptions in the four-year history of the Peace Corps, and volunteers have often remained on duty when diplomatic relations were strained.

An exception was the Peace Corps mission to Indonesia, which was withdrawn early this year at the request of President Akmed Sukarno, whose relations with Washington have neared the breaking point. The volunteers were reassigned to other countries.

About 25 Peace Corps volunteers were withdrawn from Cyprus when Greek-Turkish frictions approached the state of civil war. They are to return "when conditions make it possible," a Peace Corps official said. Most of the volunteers are teachers, and schools on Cyprus have been closed because of the conflict.

Peace Corpsmen were pulled out of the Somali Republic in the summer of 1964, when that nation was engaged in hostilities with neighboring Ethiopia. They have since returned to duty.

When U.S. troops were dispatched to the Dominican Republic last spring, one group of Peace Corps volunteers was withdrawn from the country one week before the end of its scheduled tour of duty. However, these volunteers were quickly replaced by a new group, at the urging of Dominican officials. Seventy corpsmen are now in the Dominican Republic, and 59 others are in training for assignment there.

Around the world, 8,034 Peace Corpsmen were on duty as of Aug. 31, and 4,836 volunteers were in training. Officials said all but 400 of the trainees will be assigned to overseas posts within the next two months.

Excise tax cut. You've probably heard these three words many times in the past few months. But at the same time, you may be a little confused by it all. There are sizable savings to be made from the new tax cuts... some obvious... some not so obvious. Here is basic information to help you understand the new law:

Two types of taxes are involved.

- Retailers' Federal Excise Tax. This tax—10% of the retail price—was formerly added at the time of the sale. The amount of the tax was usually shown on the price tag. This excise was eliminated entirely on June 22nd.
- Manufacturers' Federal Excise Tax. This tax has applied to a wide range of goods at the manufacturing level. It generally was 10% on the manufacturer's price to the retailer, (sometimes 5%) and has been a "hidden" tax for the consumer. Most manufacturers' excise taxes were reduced or eliminated on June 22nd; some others are being reduced at later dates, or in stages.

The ladies will save money from the removal of the 10% retail excise tax on jewelry, cosmetics, fur coats, diamonds and handbags... Men shoppers on the lookout for a new set of golf clubs and/or a power mower (less than 30-inch cut) should know that the manufacturers' excise tax on these items has been removed... Both men and women benefit from the repeal of retail excises on luggage, watches, billfolds, and clocks... and from the manufacturers' excise tax cut on automobiles, cameras, film, and a wide range of appliances. These are just a few of the savings you can expect to make as a result of this new legislation.

Understandably, some customers have been confused by which items are affected. For example, the following are not affected because they have not been subject to Federal Excise Taxes: washing machines, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, bicycles, camping equipment, boats and outboard motors. Check the list at right for more detailed information on which products are affected. These tax reductions are designed to boost an already prosperous economy, help create jobs, as well as provide you with savings on many types of goods. Good shopping!

Sukarno Defends Rule By Tongue

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian President Sukarno says "the movement of the tongue" has influenced every period in world history.

This was particularly true of the Indonesian revolution, he said last night in an address to the "1945 Revolutionaries" organization, whose members played a significant part in the fight for Indonesian independence.

Sukarno said he was replying to "an imperialist journalist"—whom he did not identify—who described Indonesia as "a country without a government that could administer a state and one which was being ruled by tongue."

Mayor Is Easy Primary Winner

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh amassed more than 60 per cent of the total vote in yesterday's municipal primary to easily win renomination as a candidate for a second term as chief of the nation's fifth-largest city.

The 37-year-old incumbent ran up a margin of greater than four to one over his nearest rival, printing firm executive Walter C. Shamie, according to unofficial returns.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania General Assembly completed legislation yesterday abolishing a bill passed in 1847 outlawing "hawkers and itinerant peddlers" in Carbon County.

At least 15 other counties were named in similar bills in the 19th century and the legislators decided to see if any were still covered. Carbon County was.

Danny Kaye Will Begin Third Season

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Danny Kaye, a reluctant newcomer to television two years ago, begins his third season tonight seeking "the jagged brilliance of imperfection."

Unlike his slick, flawless movies, Kaye's weekly show is enlivened by goofs and ad libs. He wouldn't have it any other way.

"It makes for a more entertaining show," he said.

The comedian was sitting in the special apartment CBS built atop its studio to accommodate the hard-working Kaye. He relaxed in sports clothes, puffed on a pipe and watched his crew at work via a color television set.

FULL COLOR

Viewers will see Kaye's disarray of red hair in full color this year. The difference between the black and white version and the colorcast is uncalculable.

"Color adds enormous value to the show," he said, adding, "but 90 per cent of the people looking in will be seeing it in black and white.

"The addition of color hasn't changed anything basic, except it's a lot hotter working under the lights which are five to seven times brighter. There's no question that it will help the ratings. Most people with color sets would rather see a color show if they have a choice."

WILD, WOOLY

Other Kaye guests this season include Shirley Jones, Benny Goodman, Caterina Valenti, Edie Adams, Tennesse Ernie Ford, Richard Crenna, and a wild and woolly segment with Fess Parker, Buddy Ebsen and Clint Eastwood.

"You get into a rhythm that keeps the momentum going," Kaye explained. "You work so hard for perfection on a single special that tension and pressure become almost unbearable.

"That's what I mean about the brilliance of imperfection. There's a quality of relaxation and fun in a show that isn't over-rehearsed."

International Law Leadership Meets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legal leaders of 100 nations meet at the Supreme Court today to discuss the quest for peace through law which Chief Justice Earl Warren has declared "must succeed if mankind is to survive."

One group devotes its attention to investment and what it calls transnational trade; the other is focusing on settling arguments over trade, commerce and investments.

Frozen Meat Selling Drawing Complaints

The state public health department has been receiving an increasing number of complaints during the last six months from customers of frozen meat lockers who do not end up buying what they went shopping for.

James Bell, chief of the Food and Drug Inspection Bureau of the department in Berkeley, said that it is difficult to pin down anything illegal about the operations.

The firms usually advertise a United States Department of Agriculture "good" grade of meat at a low price, around 25 cents a pound. When customers are drawn by such an advertisement, however, salesmen make a strong effort to sell them a higher grade meat at a price that may not be a bargain.

As long as the dealer has on hand the grade of meat advertised, it is not possible to make a case, Bell said.

The method seems to be most prevalent in Sacramento and Richmond, but there have been complaints throughout the state. He said there is one complaint under investigation in Marin, but would not identify the firm.

He said his inspectors often watch newspaper advertising, being able to recognize the operation from the prices offered. Many inspections are made on the basis of such ads, he said.

Bell said the operation seems to have replaced an earlier sales pitch designed to induce customers to buy a plan. This included the sale of unusual cuts of meat and other foods not ordinarily purchased by the average housewife.

SIMPLE ENOUGH to cook over a campfire or to serve fancied-up for a breakfast buffet, this all-in-a-skillet potato and egg dish makes for better breakfasting any day of the week. The recipe has its origin with the Basque sheepherders of Idaho.

Potatoes And Eggs A Breakfast Treat

Once in a long while, you will find a dish which can be cooked and served from a single utensil — a frying pan over a campfire or a glistening white top-of-the-range-to-table skillet, fitting into every breakfast occasion with equal grace.

JUST SUCH A dish is Basque Potatoes and Eggs which really does not need a recipe and uses only a skillet, a bowl and a fork for the beaten eggs, a paring knife, and a turner. It is relished by campers, husbands whose wives are away, and by the homemaker who appreciates one-dish watching and washing-up.

For a start, you will need boiled potatoes in their jackets. "Steamed" is really the word, the way Idaho potatoes are cooked. It makes a difference, as does the choice of potatoes. The same quality of mealy-dryness which has given the Idaho baking potato its fame, makes it an all-purpose potato.

YOU'LL RECOGNIZE an Idaho-gown potato by its uniformly oval shape, its russet color, and net-textured skin. It is comparatively free of deep eyes, and offers a size range to suit the purpose. Potatoes should be stored in a cool, dry, well-ventilated place.

Slice peeled cooked potatoes about ⅛-inch thick. Melt butter in heavy skillet. Add potatoes and onions. Press down into pan. Using medium heat, brown on one side and turn. For a fancies-up appearance, potato slices may be placed in overlapping circles for the first of two layers. This requires careful browning, turning, and time! But it makes a pretty picture!

Sprinkle browned side with salt and pepper. Carefully brown on the other side. Stay with it! Then pour beaten eggs over the top. Sprinkle with minced parsley. Turn heat to very low. Cover. Cook 7 to 10 minutes or until eggs are set. Serve from the skillet in which the potatoes are cooked, cut in wedges. There are many variations, depending upon locale and what is in the refrigerator.

GOOD: cook bacon in heavy skillet. Remove and keep warm. Pour off drippings. Use 4 tablespoons of the drippings instead of butter. Follow above directions. To serve, top with cooked bacon strips or cut pieecs.

BETTER: follow basic recipe. Pour ¼ cup thick dairy cream over surface of potatoes, when they have started to brown.

BEST: Instead of cream, spread ¼ cup thick dairy-sour cream over surface of potatoes. Cut chives may be used instead of parsley.

FOR SINGLE SERVING: use small heavy 6-inch skillet (we like iron). Allow 1 tablespoon butter or bacon drippings, ¾ to 1 cup sliced cooked potatoes, salt and pepper, 1 egg. Follow basic recipe.

BASQUE POTATOES AND EGGS

FOR 4 SERVINGS:
- 3 cups sliced cooked potatoes
- 4 tablespoons butter
- ¼ cup minced onion
- ½ teaspoon salt
- dashes of coarse-grind black pepper
- 4 eggs, well-beaten
- minced parsley, if desired

Crab Remick Makes Perfect Main Dish

Crabmeat, fresh, frozen or canned, is particularly delightful to serve in summer because its flavor and texture are light. Its versatility makes it useful for salads and sandwiches; for skillet, broiled and baked dishes.

WE WERE reminded of one of the greatest of all crabmeat dishes when we came upon the recently published book, "Fare Thee Well" by Leslie Dorsey and Janice Devine (Crown). This large and sumptuous work is "A Backward Look at Two Centuries of Historic Hostelries, Fashionable Spas and Seaside Resorts." A fascinating picture chronicle of how over the years Americans have fared while they traveled, it includes a report on New York's Plaza Hotel. The report ends with a recipe for the great dish called Crab Remick, invented long ago by a Plaza chef.

CRAB REMICK is perfect to serve either as a first or a main course. The following recipe is one adapted to household use. When we tried this version in our own kitchen, we found it tasted as delectable as that sampled recently at the Plaza, where the dish is still offered.

If you are interested in the American culinary scene, you will want to look into "Fare Thee Well" for benefits other than Crab Remick. An extraordinary collection of drawings, photographs and posters of hostelry life, plus table menus, fill the book. These come from historical societies, museums and private collections. The accompanying text is a fine array of information and humor.

CRAB REMICK
- 1 can (7¾-ounces) crab meat, with any tendons removed
- 2 slices bacon, finely diced
- ¼ cup chili sauce
- ¾ cup real mayonnaise
- 2 drops tabasco sauce
- 2 drops Worcestershire sauce

Break up crab meat and place in 15 to 20 small clam shells or into 3 large buttered scallop shells. Sprinkle with diced bacon. Place shells on a baking sheet. Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven until bacon is crisp and crab meat well heated—12 to 15 minutes. Meanwhile, gradually blend chili sauce into mayonnaise with tabasco sauce and Worcestershire sauce. Spoon over crab meat so it is covered. Broil about 6 inches from source of heat until bubbly and lightly browned — about 3 minutes. Makes 3 to 4 appetizer servings (in clam shells) or 3 luncheon or supper main-dish servings (in scallop shells). (AP)

'Birds Of Tahiti' Simple To Arrange

Feel a party coming on? Chances are, if you check with your teen-agers, you'll find there's one in the planning . . . and they'll probably look to you for some imaginative party ideas. Why not a South Seas party?

GO ALL OUT Tahitian . . . the teen-agers will love it! Decorations? Leave that to the youngsters. Food, however, is your department, so choose a different menu, appropriate to the theme, appealing to young tastes.

"Birds of Tahiti" . . . halved pineapple, scooped out to hold a luscious assortment of fruits . . . form the base of a cunning bird. Carrot strips make colorful feathers. It's simple to arrange, a delight to behold. The fruit is tossed with a tempting new bottled Tahitian dressing for a a delicious spicy-sweet flavor which, according to home economists is highly favored by the young set. This ruby-red dressing is conveniently pre-blended and homogenized so that you need not shake it before pouring.

MAKE A COOLING tea punch (so easy using the new flavored iced tea mixes as a base) and for the festive air, garnish each glass with a pineapple wedge, strawberry or fresh mint sprig. Then sit back and watch those young ones have a grand "Hoolaulea" . . . that's island talk for great celebration!

BIRDS OF TAHITI
- 1 large pineapple
- Few whole cloves
- 1 large carrot
- Celery sprig
- ½ cup Tahitian Isle Dressing
- 1 cup cantaloupe balls
- 1 cup strawberry halves
- 1 cup seeded grapes
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ cup split macadamia nuts

1. Leaving top on for tails, cut pineapple in half lengthwise. Cut out inside in one piece. Slice ¾" thick lengthwise and, from 2 slices, cut out shapes of 2 bird heads. Secure heads on pineapple halves with toothpicks. Use cloves for eyes.

2. Cut carrot into lengthwise slices and use for wings and tails. Secure wings along inside rim of each pineapple half with toothpicks; secure tail pieces on cut surface at base of leaves. Secure celery leaves on head for comb.

3. Cut remaining pineapple into chunks, combine with Tahitian isle dressing, cantaloupe balls, strawberries, grapes, lemon juice and nuts. Pile into pineapple halves. If desired, serve with more Tahitian isle dressing.

Makes 4 to 6 servings or 2 "birds."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Local Pornography Laws Would Create Confusion

A movement is afoot to place on next year's ballot a state constitutional amendment that would permit local governments to pass laws on obscenity, pornography and prostitution.

Such a constitutional amendment, if approved, would give cities the power to pass laws against vice and pornography more restrictive than those adopted by the state.

No one disputes the need to control vice. Everyone is against sin. The difficulty in controlling vice such as pornography lies in defining and pinpointing what is pornographic or obscene.

We see no reason why individual cities and towns, acting independently, can pass better and more effective anti-vice laws than the State Legislature.

What we do see, in the event each city were free to pass its own anti-vice laws, is a hodge-podge of restrictions that would bring nothing but chaos and confusion throughout the state.

For example, assume that each of Marin's 10 cities and the County of Marin were empowered to pass anti-vice laws and setting their own standards of decency for their communities.

Let us suppose that one locality passes laws which would have the effect of suppressing the publication of certain details in criminal cases.

We would be forced to publish a censored edition to serve the one locality with strict laws, while continuing to circulate the uncensored edition in the rest of the county. Or we would be forced to censor the news to suit the one town with the strictest laws and thus deprive the less restrictive communities of news details which they consider quite proper and which all could get anyway via radio or TV.

A picture or story or advertisement might be quite acceptable in one town and be outlawed across the street.

How about magazines and publications that have state-wide circulations? It would be impossible for them to tailor their news, features and photographs to comply with every new restriction imposed by the hundreds of towns and hamlets throughout the state.

It is true that obscenity and pornography are being sold over news counters throughout the state. It would be desirable if a formula can be devised to curb the obviously filthy material.

The state has laws against obscene material, and the Legislature is constantly trying to improve on those laws in an effort to weed out the filthy without censoring legitimate writing and art. Congress and the highest courts have been trying for years to reach agreement on the regulation of vice.

Giving each little community the power to legislate against vice would only add confusion in an already difficult field of law enforcement.

The Real Folk Songs

There are all kinds of folk songs being written today. Many of them are fraught with deep social significance Both the leftists and the rightists claim it is their natural vehicle. We wonder.

Perhaps the real folk songs are the singing commercials. They have their roots in the wants and needs of the individual, as carefully calculated by research of the advertisers.

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— Every year, for the past 39 years, leaders of business, industry and agriculture have assembled in Sacramento at what is known as the "host breakfast." Originally, the idea was to promote the California State Fair, honor the directors, and make opportunity to be seen and heard at a get-together which has no counterpart anyplace.

THE BREAKFAST was hosted by a group of Sacramento businessmen, and their guests were businessmen of like station from outside of the community. The pattern is the same today, and this year saw the largest gathering ever held for the event.

As usual, the governor addressed the group and lauded his administration, calling attention to what he says are the hallmarks of progress of the state in its various fields of activity. And as usual, one speaker decried some of the activities of government, this time, the growing power of the federal government.

The speaker this year was William French Smith, a director of the California State Chamber of Commerce, which co-sponsors the meeting, and a well-known attorney.

His subject, the growing power of the federal government, dipped into some basic philosophies regarding the over-all concept of government in the United States as it is being practiced today. The theme was that that federal government is taking control away from the individual and substituting federal government largess and power for the republican concept of government.

Smith discussed a subject which is well known to a great many citizens and one which no doubt will be discussed on a much larger scale as the movement toward centralization grows.

HE POINTED OUT that too much power is being concentrated in the federal government at the loss of individual freedom; that the responsibility of the citizens is being destroyed, with the end result that the strength of the country is being dried up.

Causes of his trend, he pointed out, result from the desire to "take the easy" way in solving problems; a yearning for security on the part of the people and looking on the uniformity secured through federal legislation as a virtue rather than considering variety as an essential of evolutionary progress.

"Do we discard the substance of federalism which has treated us so well and let power revert uncontested to the top?" he asked. "Do we concede that federal power is without limit and let it go at that, and become a monolithic, centalized system like all the rest? Or, do we make the determined effort to keep government, through decentralization, as close to the citizen as possible, the basis of our success?"

How Did Birchers Get Into Article?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If you have not heard about the Pavlovian dogs, this may mean nothing to you. However, I draw your attention to George Barker's column in the I-J Sept. 11, entitled "The Lingo of Peking — A Battle of Isms."

He begins, "Peking's propaganda is redundant, cliche-ridden and stuffily self-righteous. But it is interesting — partly because of the battle of isms." Seemingly innocuous enough, it goes on to discuss the peculiar isms that Peking and Moscow use with reference to each other.

But in the sixth paragraph, something completely out of character with the whole article jumps out at you. "The Chinese propagandists share with the John Birch Society a hatred of 'liberalism'." What, may I ask, has the John Birch Society, as the only reference to Western civilization in the whole thing, to do with the isms Peking and Moscow use in referring to each other?

Pavlov has switched the lights and the conditioned dogs blink their eyes in neurotic confusion; or, if you have not heard of Pavlov, you must have heard of the Communist trick of "assassination by association."

Wreckers, Spare That Courthouse!

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I cannot understand why no voice from a more appropriate source than mine has been heard on behalf of keeping the old Courthouse in San Rafael. Unless it should be dismantled because unsafe, it would be an aesthetic loss to all to be torn down. A Greek or Roman renaissance building of good proportions set off well as it is, and in addition representing dedication of our good people in the past to the practice of local self-government and discipline cannot be superceded easily by another monument, and it is already there, large, gracious and dominant. Its appearance could only be enhanced by destroying the inferior annex apparently built with expedience in late years for temporary convenience.

This large hall, relatively in good, or better taste, deserves better treatment than the very just fate which continues to overtake most monstrous Victorian displays, especially, old courthouses when no longer needed.

Even the Doughboy statue out front for all the virtue it represents doesn't mean as much as a memorial as does a building which has been the scene of one of our greatest contributions to the world—representative democracy in evolution. While other centers in our far west are at expense and effort to restore such remnants of the romantic past, San Rafael contemplates destruction of an exceptional example!

Why not let the county undertake a restoration program of the interior, renting out upper floors and other appropriate areas to attorneys, consultants, and such professional persons to defray the expenses, spending as the money comes in. This way the memorial could continue as a hub of the town's activities. Such palaces of the past are utilized in this way by the French, the lessee of the quarters agreeing to make no changes altering the historic value of the building.

Atrocities Exist, Even If Unnoticed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In case anyone is not familiar with Mr. Worley's letter concerning the atrocities committed in Viet Nam, I suggest they read "Deliver Us From Evil" written by Dr. Tom Dooley while he was a doctor in his own hospital there a few years ago. It was published in the Readers Digest at that time.

Or, they could all do what the ostrich does, stick their heads down a hole, and believe if we didn't see it, it didn't happen.

Reader Saddened By Harsh Letter

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In answer to the lady who wrote an article to the Independent-Journal on Sept. 8 and who so strongly condemned our government, our educational system, our training programs and yes, even our children, may I say that I pity her with all my heart. What an unhappy person she must be to be living in this beautiful land of ours and seeing nothing but ugliness and feeling nothing but hate—to have no pride in her government and no love for her fellow Americans. This, to me, is very sad.

Fortunately, not too many of us go along with her line of thinking and most of us are more than willing to contribute what we can towards cleaning up our slums, helping our sick and our aged, training our underprivileged and having pride in our teachers, classrooms and children. Surely this cannot be labeled socialism or Communism—this is just the true American spirit which we, no doubt, inherited from our early pioneers and whom I feel sure helped each other in order to settle this glorious land of ours.

Now that we are confronted with even more overwhelming problems, it would be nice if this lady would reconsider some of her viewpoints, erase some of her hatreds, and along with the rest of us have faith in her country and her people.

BENNETT CERF

SUBTLE ARE the stratagems of a successful publicist!

Years ago, when the Waldorf-Astoria was still located on Thirty-Fourth Street, New York, a rumor gained circulation that it was going to be replaced by a brand new hostelry up on Park Avenue. This was indeed the plan that was afoot, but it was still years from fruition. Meanwhile, as a result of the rumor, business began to fall off alarmingly at the old location. Fashionable folk didn't want to be seen in a hotel that seemed doomed to oblivion!

A prominent publisist was called in to set things aright—and this he did very quickly. He announced that Oscar, the famous Waldorf head chef, had been signed to a precedent-shattering million-dollar contract: One hundred thousand dollars a year for the next ten years! Patronage at the Waldorf was soon bigger than ever, particularly in the lucrative food and beverage departments—and half the customers invaded the kitchen to get autographs from the great Oscar!

1. The Indians never smiled at White Men, but they had plenty of fun in their teehees.

2. Bison roamed the great plains for years under the name of buffalo. Despite this trick they were practically extincted.

3. The War of 1812 was fought between Americans and England in 1776.

4. French policemen often disguise themselves as gendarmes.

Reform Needed To Rid Bench Of 'Lazy, Senile, Unfit' Judges

WASHINGTON — Of all the arms of government, the courts are under the least effective scrutiny.

SOMETHING NEEDS to be done about it. Something can be done about it if public opinion will put its force behind the reforms being pressed by the American Bar Association.

This is not to say that mediocrity dominates the bench. It doesn't. The majority of judges are able, earnest, and honest. Responsible critics do not say otherwise. But the presence of the mediocre and the unfit is so pervasive that it is poisoning our judicial system.

Most of the complaints are justified. Lawyers and judges know they are justified. Unfitness is chronic and the deterioration of the courts is marked by these conditions: a steady stream of second and third-rate appointees and, in their wake, "senility, alcoholism, laziness, chronic absence from work, and arbitrary and discriminatory actions."

This is not the indictment of a disappointed litigant. It is the bill of particulars brought by a former federal judge, Royce H. Savage, to the law school graduating class of the University of Tulsa. This is an address deemed so pertinent, so timely, and so objective that it is given the lead position in the current Journal of the American Judicature Society.

Savage points out that in California, for example, the shortcomings and deficiencies of the courts remained concealed from the public for years until a murder trial was interrupted four days because the judge disappeared on an alcoholic binge. Other shocking cases of judicial unfitness and neglect came to light in subsequent investigation.

OF FIVE JUDGES in one county, four had been absent for as long as a year due to ill health. Nothing was done about it. One metropolitan judge had presided during only nine mornings in two years. Others were too old to discharge their duties adequately.

Two weaknesses in the judicial system contribute most: it is easy to get mediocre judges on the bench and almost impossible to get them off. Life tenure is the rule in many courts; the less competent stay on and on.

This is why the American Bar Association advocates nationwide acceptance of its merit selection and tenure plan, which does three things:

1. It provides that all nominations to the bench be made by impartial commissions made up of both lawyers and laymen.

2. It requires Governors to appoint judges from the commission lists.

3. It calls for periodic, non-competitive election of appointed judges.

This is the "Missouri Plan," after the state where it was first tried out. In one form or another it has already been adopted by 11 states and, after trying it, none has repealed it.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Missiles Being Fired Off Hawaii By Reds

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

The missiles, although falling harmlessly into the Pacific Ocean, are privately viewed by President Johnson's chief diplomatic advisors as Soviet warning signals against U.S. escalation of the Viet Nam conflict.

HONOLULU IS the headquarters for all U.S. military operations in the Pacific, including Viet Nam. It also is the main base for the Navy's Pacific fleet of nine aircraft carriers, two Polaris submarines and more than 100 surface craft.

Significantly, the Russians began firing their 5,000-mile-range missiles closer to Hawaii shortly after U.S. officials announced that B-52 bombing raids against the Communists in South Viet Nam were being stepped up.

These controversial air strikes have been limited to South Viet Nam targets, on direct orders of President Johnson, and so far have had very little military impact.

The highly publicized bombing missions are being flown mainly to warn Peking and Moscow that the B-52's could be launched against industrial targets in North Viet Nam if Hanoi continues to refuse to negotiate a peaceful settlement, or steps up the war.

While the unannounced Soviet missile firings jarred some of President Johnson's diplomatic advisors, the Joint Chiefs of Staff regard them as a "big bluff" and a cover for new missile shipments to North Viet Nam.

THEY ARE frankly warning the president that if Moscow's hand isn't called on the new SAM-2 missiles, which are capable of downing planes 80,000 feet aloft, the B-52's will be unable to bomb targets north of the 17th Parallel.

The Joint Chiefs recommend that the White House stop using the big bombers as political weapons, and order their crews to hit strategic industrial targets in North Viet Nam, including the main port at Haiphong.

U.S. naval reconnaissance planes report Haiphong is crawling with large-hatched ships, indicating that the Russians are going all-out to beef up their anti-aircraft missile defenses, now numbering more than 20 sites in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

At least two of the Soviet vessels, which carried 1,200-mile-range missiles to Cuba, unloaded rockets for use in coastal defense. These missiles are believed to have a range of at least 30 miles.

French intelligence sources insist the Russians now have in the Haiphong area several 900-mile-range mobile rockets capable of hitting all U.S. airfields and military installations in South Viet Nam.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who is waging an all-out peace offensive to negotiate a settlement by next January, is vigorously opposing any attack on Haiphong's port or its missile sites.

IN HIS MEMORANDUMS to the president Rusk argues that bombing Haiphong would broaden the war and could cause a major showdown with the Soviet Union.

In testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in September 1962 Secretary Rusk completely misread Russian signals to the U.S. on its arms shipments to Cuba a month before the missile crisis there.

He told the senators that "the Russians, in a series of statements and messages, were delivering only defensive weapons to Cuba."

At the time Rusk was testifying Soviet ships were sneaking medium-range ballistic missiles into Cuba. Although he has since appeared numerous times before the same committee, Rusk has neither volunteered, nor have the senators questioned him on why he was so far off in reading Russian intentions.

Segregation Slowed Southern Economy

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.

"It is not for the good of Negroes, but for that of the whites, that measures are taken to abolish slavery in the United States." — Alexis de Tocqueville.

Today, approximately 130 years after thee minent French historian penned these words in his classic "Democracy in America," there are millions of white Americans who still view integration as a liability rather than an opportunity.

BUT JUST AS the nation, even in the 1830s, was being inexorably forced toward emancipation because the slave system was working against the pecuniary interests of its masters, so too is segregation tumbling down—and for much the same reasons. Integration is benefiting the entire nation, not just Negro citizens.

In the past year, says the federal government, more schools have been opened and more public places integrated by the new Civil Rights Act than by a decade of Federal exhortations, court orders and writs. The walls are collapsing all over the South because only shopworn custom sustained them.

They had long been drags and deadweights on the economy of the South; forcing taxpayers to build two waiting rooms where one could suffice and two schools where only one was needed. Yet, even beyond this, segregation has been rendering sluggish the Southern economy.

As automation cuts away some one million unskilled jobs annually, the day is rapidly approaching, if it is not here already, that Dixie's cities must have the scientists, teachers, engineers, accountants and technicians vital to our new economy. At present, they are losing out to the booming Southwestern and Pacific Coast States. The day when a Southern contractor drove into the Negro quarter and picked up 20 laborers for a construction job is about over. The new recruiters are not looking so much for musclepower as brainpower—and customs prohibiting Negroes from acquiring education spell disaster to the future of the nation, North and South.

Booker T. Washington long ago declared that the Southern white man had to get down in the economic gutter in order to hold the black man there. And his famous remarks were foreshadowed by de Tocqueville, who wrote:

"IN GENERAL, the colonies in which there were no slaves became more populous, more prosperous than those in which slavery flourished. The farther (South) they went, the more was it shown that slavery, which is so cruel to the slave, is prejudicial to the master."

Thus, to the same extent that the South has not shucked off its heritage of slavery; to the extent that it clings to second-class citizenship for Negroes—to this extent does it penalize itself in the race for new industries and jobs.

Southern white merchants are doing a land office business on hundreds of Main Streets where Negro shoppers were prohibited only a year or two ago. Of course, their new patrons still lack the wherewhithal to buy even as the poor whites do, but integration means fatter sales and profits just the same.

Now, I am convinced, many employers inhibited by local customs barring them from hiring Negroes will be able to paint to Title VII of the new Civil Rights Act as the rationale for hiring. This, too, will be good for business as well as for Negro workers, by expanding local purchasing power.

IN ALL, the Southern climate—thanks to integration—could change rapidly and radically for the better, offering the brightest Negro youngsters new incentive for staying home in Dixie. And, if the new act can cut into the tragically high levels of unemployment among Negroes (124 per cent higher than among whites, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics) we can expect that high tensions, high welfare payments and high crime rates can begin that long-awaited downward spiral.

When Lady Bird Says Thanks, Congressmen Have To Act Fast

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. — There has been a lot of talk about President Lyndon B. Johnson's arm twisting when it comes to Congress, but very little has been said about Mrs. Johnson's persuasive powers with that same body.

Mrs. Johnson is very interested in legislation that has to do with beautifying America and she came all the way to Jackson Hole to dramatize the cause.

THE BILL she is seeking is now being considered by Congress and a spokesman for Mrs. Johnson said that the First Lady called several Congressmen to "thank" them for their help.

I haven't been privy to any of these conversations, but I would guess they may have gone something like this.

"Oh, how do you do, Mrs. Johnson."

"Ah just called to thank you for everything you've done to help get H.R.8701 through Congress."

"Yes, yes, well, uh" (aside to his secretary: "Find out what the heck H.R.8701 is all about") "I'm certainly glad to oblige, Mrs. Johnson."

"Ah told Lyndon, just this morning at breakfast, that Congressman Jones could be counted on our side, not only to get it out of committee, but to a vote."

"WHAT DID the president say, Mrs. Johnson?"

"He said, 'Congressman Jones has never let us down before, so there is no reason on this good green earth why he'd let us down now.' "

(Congressman to secretary, "Did you ever find out what the bill is?") "All of us up here on the hill are for you, Mrs. Johnson. I was just telling Betty this morning at breakfast how interested we were in your legislation."

"Ah spoke to Betty at lunch. She told me she was sure that you would be able to work something out that would be satisfactory to all the women of America."

"Betty said that?"

"Yes, she said that she was surprised you hadn't done anything about the bill before now and she planned to discuss it with you tonight."

"Well, you know, Mrs. Johnson, it's fortunate you called at this moment because I was just going over the bill with my staff." (Aside to secretary, "Look in the other files. The bill's got to be somewhere.")

"LYNDON SAID you would probably get to it today or tomorrow and he suggested Ah wait until you get it out of committee before Ah thanked you, but Ah told him, Ah knew you were going to do the right thing and Ah wanted to thank you in advance."

"That's awfully nice of you, Mrs. Johnson."

"Lyndon said you've got that dam you want so badly on your mind that you might have forgotten about mah little old bill, but Ah said Ah was sure Congressman Jones would put mah bill before his dam."

"The President's right, Mrs. Johnson. Without your bill, my dam would have no meaning at all."

"Well, thanks so much, Congressman Jones. You and Betty must come over sometime and have a meal with us."

"Yes ma'm. Anytime."

"But don't you even want to read it?"

"Don't ask any questions, and if my wife calls, tell her I've already got the message."

10 YEARS AGO

A "jubilant" Caryl Chessman today hoped for eventual vindication of the "Red Light Bandit" crimes after he heard the U.S. Supreme Court had ordered a new lower court hearing for him—a climax in his seven-year battle against death in San Quentin's gas chamber.

By Jove, if it isn't the I-J, there in the middle!
At least we have ONE avid reader in London.

Which one is Number One?

As you can see, the I-J is a bit outnumbered by The Times, in London. (We only have one subscriber).

But change the scene to Marin County, where YOUR INTERESTS come first, and lo, the Independent-Journal leads all the rest! Here, you've actually made the so-called BIG papers SMALL in comparison with the I-J in daily Marin County circulation.

But that's to be expected. Living here, naturally you want ALL THE LOCAL NEWS, rather than a mention or two. And that's where we take off our bowlers to no one. Instead, the I-J publishes more Marin County news than all other newspapers combined . . . whether in or out of Marin.

Other larger "outside" papers may have more columnists, more New York features. But we have more MARIN features, of intimate value to you as a resident. We carry more local ads that help you buy with discernment–and savings. More local classified, too. More news of civic affairs, of schools, education, local politics, women's events, Marin sports–the close-to-home world of Marin today.

It's quite a bailiwick. And because it's Number One with us, you've made us Number One with you–in circulation, in advertising, in local news. We'll hang our bowler on that.

MEANWHILE, BACK IN MARIN, EVERYONE'S READING MARIN'S BEST-SELLER (I-J)

Korean Mezzo Plans Concert In San Rafael

Young Ja Shin, 22-year-old Korean mezzo soprano, will present a concert Friday at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael.

Her program will include a group of songs by 17th to 18th Century Italian composers, another of Schumann songs, arias from operas by Gluck, Mozart and Donizetti and Korean folk songs.

The young singer, who has been sponsored by the church, has been studying to become an opera singer at Juilliard School of Music in New York City. Contributions at the concert will be used to help her continue her studies at the Julliard school.

She has been living at the home of Mrs. John W. Chapman of San Rafael since she came to this country in 1963.

Action Effective Friday In Larger Transit Group

State legislative action, to take effect Friday, will add two city representatives to the Marin Transit District Board, now consisting only of the board of supervisors.

Noting this yesterday, supervisors asked that a letter be sent to Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge of Tiburon, chairman of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, asking that the two city men be named.

The legislation says that the council of mayors and councilmen will select the added members.

"I hope we will have a balanced representation," said Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who opposed increasing the size of the transit district board.

"I'm sure we will," said Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who also opposed the legislation along with Supervisor William M. Gnoss.

Ceremonial Is Ended On Shaky Note

The call was wired into a speaker so Cowgill's audience could hear. As he completed the call a phone operator came onto the line, saying:

"We need to know who is going to be responsible for the call."

"Bob Wright, the local telephone manager," Cowgill replied.

"We need someone more responsible than that," the phone girl said.

Compounded Her Mistake

WOOD RIVER, Ill. (AP) — Linda Turner was sitting alone in James Walters' car when she thought it would be a good idea to turn on the radio. But she turned the ignition switch the wrong way.

The vehicle was in gear. It leaped as the engine started and mowed down shrubbery in two front yards and crashed into a front porch.

Miss Turner, 14, told police she tried to stop the vehicle by pushing the brake. The brake turned out to be the accelerator.

Fraction Of Second To Read Long Speech

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new type of electronic "reading machine" can read the text of President Lincoln's Gettysburg address and store it in magnetic type form in six-tenths of a second, according to New Era Data Systems, which operates the machine.

The machine can read up to 2,000 print characters per second. Lincoln's famed address totals 1,198 characters. Electronic optical scanners "translate" typed information and data into magnetic tape form or punched cards for use in computer systems.

Chinese Were First To Develop, Use Ink

NEW YORK (UPI)—The first civilization believed to have developed and used ink for writing is the Chinese, according to the Book of Knowledge.

The Chinese are usually credited with developing the first inks in 2600 B.C. These inks were probably composed of charcoal mixed with a form of glue or oil varnish.

Cities In Marin Shun Hotel Tax

The majority of cities in Marin County are showing a reluctance to impose a tax on tourists, traveling salesmen or others who stay at motels and hotels.

With two exceptions, city councils have shunned ordinances which would levy a 4 per cent tax on the occupants of hotel and motel rooms for less than 30 days.

For some cities like Fairfax and Mill Valley, the answer is simply that they have no hotels or motels.

With others, such as San Anselmo, the number of rooms in town is so small they say it is not feasable to spend good money collecting the tax.

In January, Corte Madera became the first town in Marin to impose a hotel tax. It has brought in what Ronald L. Usher, town manager, describes as "a not unsubstantial amount."

About 160 rooms in three locations gave the council $2,000 during the three months ending June 30, he said.

Tiburon city councilmen showed interest in the tax Monday night although at the moment Tiburon has no hotel. One which is being planned for the area could give the city council more than $6,000 a year in the room tax, members were told.

Meanwhile, Marin County supervisors have allowed the tax ordinance which they introduced in June to die in the files.

Three months ago, the board wanted to get a step ahead of the state legislature, which had before it a similar bill. Publication of the Marin ordinance was held up to see what the legislature would do.

Across the line in Sonoma County, discontent has been voiced by motel owners against the tax where it has been applied, notably in Petaluma.

Graduation Set Saturday For Eight Blind Students

Guide Dogs for the Blind training school at 350 Los Ranchitos Road, San Rafael, will graduate eight blind students Saturday who have been training for the past month to work with guide dogs.

The class is the 190th to graduate from the school. The graduation ceremonies, to begin at 2:30 p.m., are open to the public.

County Airport Subject Of Panel

Development of Marin County Airport will be the subject of the Radio KTIM discussion program "Marin Sounding Board," tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Taking part will be County Supervisor William A. Gnoss; Ray W. Foreaker Jr., a San Rafael private pilot; Charles R. Johnson, chairman of Novato Chamber of Commerce Airport Committee, and Eugene R. Trombley, chairman of the County Airport Committee and a member of the planning commission.

Republican Women To Hear Halley

James Halley, vice chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, will speak at a luncheon meeting of the Marin Federated Republican Women in Mill Valley next Tuesday.

President Barbara K. Hennessy announced the meeting will be at the home of Robert D. Huber. Members will meet at Old Mill School, and a shuttle service will be operated to the Huber home between 11 a.m. and noon.

Novato Sanitary District Adopts Laterals Policy

In future street work through assessment districts, property owners must pay for relocating laterals but the Novato Sanitary District will pay for trunk lines, the district board decided at its meeting Monday night.

The policy is an outgrowth of the two Center Road projects in which extensive sewer work was required in connection with street improvements, said Charles Joseph, district engineer-manager.

The board authorized purchase of a boat and motor for $650 to use in testing the effluent in the creeks and bay.

Angel Island Pier On State Bids List

The State Division of Highways will call for bids this week on 13 projects, among them the replacement of pier and boating facilities at Ayala Cove at Angel Island State Park.

About $105,700 is available for this project. Bids will be opened Oct. 20.

Coins Talk Set

Howard Graham of Mill Valley will discuss the new "sandwich" coins, now being minted but not yet in public circulation, at a meeting of the Marin Coin Club at 7:45 p.m., today at Brown's hall, Mill Valley.

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 15, the 258th day of 1965 with 107 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter; the morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn; the evening stars are Venus, Mars, and Saturn.

The 27th president of the United States, William Howard Taft, was born on this day in 1857.

On this day in history:

In 1789, the U. S. Department of Foreign Affairs changed its name to "Department of State."

In 1935, the Nazi Third Reich started a program of violent religious persecution against the Jews and established the Swastika as the national flag.

In 1963, a bomb was thrown at a Negro church in Birmingham, Ala., killing four Negro girls and setting off rioting. Two Negro boys were shot to death on the same day.

A thought for the day: British statesman Benjamin Disraeli said: "What we anticipate seldom occurs; what we least expected generally happens."

TIME AND TIDE

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Beware Of Brooding Against Alert Foe When Playing

Occasionally you reverse the process: you take your winners in the side suits quickly to make sure that you don't lose too many trump tricks.

When William Rosen, the well-known Chicago expert, played this hand in the recent national tournament he got the impression that West brooded over his final pass.

PENALTY DOUBLE

An unwary declarer would probably try an early finesse with the queen of hearts and would wind up losing two trumps, two diamonds and a spade. Rosen decided against such an incautious line of play.

West led his top diamonds and gave dummy the third diamond trick. South discarded a spade on the third diamond and ran the three club tricks before touching the trumps.

NOT DANGEROUS

This was less dangerous than it seemed. If West had only two clubs with his known five diamonds, he would probably have three trumps and three spades. His ruff of a club would cost him a natural trump trick.

Actually, the clubs went through safely. Declarer next led a trump from dummy and ducked the trick to West's nine.

West could brood as much as he liked now, but he could not get out safely.

FREE FINESSE

If West returned a trump or a spade, South would get a free finesse. If West returned a diamond, dummy would ruff with the 10 of hearts while South discarded the jack of spades.

In addition to the lesson on how to play a difficult hand there is a moral to this little tale:

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:
♠ K 9
♥ K J 9
♦ A K 6 3 2
♣ J 4 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds.

You would jump to three hearts if one of your small diamonds were a small heart. It is unsound to jump in hearts with only three-card heart support when you can describe your hand more accurately by showing the diamonds first.

JUNIOR AT REDWOOD

Greek Student, 17, Is Happy He's In The U. S. To Study

John Mpoumpagiatzis, a 17-year-old Greek student who entered Redwood High School Monday, has been impressed by the Golden Gate Bridge, Muir Woods and the price of a haircut in Marin.

In Greece a haircut costs 14 or 15 drachmas—"about 50 cents"—he said.

John arrived recently from Athens to live with his uncle, William Poulopoulos of 121 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, and continue his studies in the United States.

Asked if the U.S. has lived up to his expectations, John said, "It's better than I expected."

Now a junior at Redwood High, he plans to complete high school and college in the U.S.A.

If he had stayed in Greece, he probably would not have been able to go to college, Poulopoulos said.

The campaign to bring John to Kentfield took the combined efforts of his uncle, Redwood High School teachers and administrators, and Rep. Donald H. Clausen, working both here and in Athens.

"Between Marin and Athens, it worked," Poulopoulos said.

Things didn't go so smoothly as planned however, because John was supposed to return with Joseph Wadlington, a Redwood High School teacher, who had visited him in Athens.

When Wadlington left Athens, it appeared to him that John didn't have a chance of making it to the United States, and he was disconsolate because he would "have to break the bad news" to Poulopoulos.

Poulopoulos explained that he got support from Supt. Chester G. Carlisle and Representive Clausen, and in a short time John was on his way.

Wadlington, who was touring other European countries when John's visa was granted, said he and Robert Kuehnl, a Redwood High School Latin teacher, had pleaded at the U.S. Embassy on John's behalf, but "it looked hopeless."

Poulopoulos said the U.S. Embassy was leary of permitting students to come to the United States for more than one year. "They have the opinion they'll not go back," he said. "They want to make sure that the students go back and offer the knowledge they gain."

Wadlington said that while in Athens having coffee outside the American Express office, he was caught in the student riots.

"They came all of a sudden like a wave . . . and I was upset because there were some American students in the middle shouting," he said.

John plans "to stay to get an education." Still, he will get a daily newspaper from Athens "to keep in touch with political and sports news" from home.

Screening Of Indigents In Legal Aid Is Asked

"Indigents" who are being defended in misdemeanor cases at county cost should get careful screening for eligibility, the Marin County Board of Supervisors indicated yesterday.

"Three thousand hours of work are being done at county expense," declared Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen. "That's a lot of money."

He suggested that indigents who ask the county to pay for their defense should be screened, perhaps by Welfare Director Betty L. Presley. "As long as we're tightening the budget, let's tighten it everywhere," said Kettenhofen.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer suggested that the Marin Bar Assn. be asked for its opinion on the defense of indigents.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said he would like to go further by having the administrator's office draw up an entire list of areas in which the Marin Bar Assn. can advise the county on legal matters. Barrows said he would have such a list compiled in two weeks.
